Making ghouls the old-fashioned way

By Lisa A. Boudreau

When Cheryl Harriman was growing up on 51 North St. her older sister liked to scare her with ghost stories and gory descriptions of ghouls at Halloween.

Ms. Harriman, 27, isn't scared by her sister's ghost tales anymore, but the stories did inspire her to design and build life-size, scary figures she now displays in front of her home during the bewitching season each year.

"One year the cars were backed up for almost a mile with people driving by and stopping to see them," she said.

Her hobby began almost eight years ago. Her first figure, a witch, started as an idea that came to her as she looked at a few items her family was going to throw away. The witch mannequin took shape as she assembled those few household items and added a face she painted.

Now she has half-a-dozen figures including a mummy, Frankenstein, a devil, a scarecrow and a few more

McQuillan named as superintendent

By Lisa A. Boudreau

Dr. Mark McQuillan is the School Committee's choice to be the new superintendent of schools.

Dr. McQuillan, the current assistant superintendent of schools in Beverly, was the unanimous choice Tuesday night of the committee, which picked him from a field of 77 candidates.

"I'm ecstatic," he said the day after he received the news from the committee. "I can't wait to get started."

Dr. McQuillan and the committee are in the process of drafting a three-and-a-half-year, $75,000 annual salary contract.

"Right now we're in the process of dotting the i's and reworking a few words," said Dr. McQuillan.

Personal jabs highlight debate

By Don Staruk

The state senate and representative candidates sparred over taxes, job experience and approaches to government during last Thursday night's debate at Memorial Hall Library, and although no new issues were brought out, the intensity of the races may have reached a new level.

Approximately 100 people attended the 90-minute debate, which was organized by the Andover League of Women Voters.

"I think it was as good and fair and healthy a debate as I've ever taken part in," Sen. Patricia McGovern, D-Lawrence, said after it was over.

Republican state senate candidate Alba Castillo, of Lawrence, emphatically attacked Sen. McGovern, blaming her for higher taxes and irresponsible management.

"Both as a businesswoman and an attorney I believe I can represent this district bet-

On Andover streets, Silber leads

By Lisa A. Boudreau

"I'm disgusted with politics right now," said Marcie Lascher, 4 Hickory Lane.

Ms. Lascher is adamant about the defeat of ballot question 3, which calls for a rollback of taxes and fees to 1988 levels, and she may blank the governor's race, but is leaning toward John Silber.

In general, people in Andover seem fed up with the negative campaigning of political incumbents and challengers.

That was the sentiment expressed by nearly a dozen people in a random, informal poll taken by the Townsman this week. The state general election is this Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Three-quarters of the 12 people asked this week said they would vote for Democratic gubernatorial candidate John Silber; one was for Republican William Weld and the rest were undecided.

Heavy election turnout expected

By Don Staruk

Just five days remain before the 17,869 registered Andover voters will have to put up or shut up. The state general elections are Tuesday, Nov. 6.

Months of negative campaigning, with incumbent Democrats being chased down by what at times seemed like a mob mentality, will

McQuillan named as new school superintendent

"We (his wife, Dorothy, and 8-year-old daughter, Elizabeth) plan to move to Andover as soon as possible. We've already begun arrangements to sell our home," in Newton," he said.

Dr. McQuillan will officially begin at the start of the new year when out-going superintendent Kenneth Seifert will begin a six-month sabbatical. Dr. Seifert will officially retire after 22 years as the head of Andover's schools.

Committee member Susan Poore said Dr. McQuillan was chosen because he was "the best match" for Andover. She said she was impressed with his desire to invest time in Andover before his official starting date in January.

Chairman Andres Salazar said even though the two other finalists were well qualified, Dr. McQuillan was the committee's first choice because of his financial management experience, curriculum development skills and his background in recruiting and hiring top-notch teachers and administrators in Beverly.

Andover's school system will have a turnover of approximately 50 percent of its teaching staff within the next five years.

"He's got a good handle on the essential programs a school systems needs and the reasonable costs to run those programs ... and an understanding of the tradeoffs that have to be made in tough financial times that are best overall for a school system," said Mr. Salazar.

The Beverly school system and Andover school system are almost identical in size and similar in budgets. Beverly has 4,500 students distributed between four elementary schools, two middle schools and one high school funded by a $22 million budget. Andover has exactly the same number of schools, 200 more students and a half-million dollar bigger budget.

Committee member Michael Frishman said he was impressed with the hiring Dr. McQuillan had done in Beverly. He said he was looking forward to the positive changes the new superintendent would institute through hirings in Andover during the next few years. Mr. Frishman said Dr.

McQuillan hired four principals in Beverly schools during the past 18 months and almost 100 staffers during his tenure there.

witches, one complete with its own custom-made casket.

The lining of the casket is made from material of a housecoat that was to be thrown away. The mummy is wrapped in "miles and miles" of gauze and ripped sheets. The scarecrow is made with burlap from onion bags. Each mannequin has a clay head Ms. Harriman sculpted. The heads are usually the hardest and most time consuming part of the projects, she said.

Ms. Harriman's favorite creation is her 7-foot-tall Frankenstein. "Frankie," as she refers to him, has gone through a few revisions. On the first try Frankie's body wasn't strong enough to support the weight of his 20-pound head.

"It was terrible," said Ms. Harriman, "All that work I had done and then one day Frankie's head just broke off and fell inside" his body.

She enlisted the help of her father, Herbert Harriman, who spent one week's worth of his free time building a new wooden body for Frankenstein.

All the figures' heads are made from sculpted clay, which are then painted and decorated with bright colors. The weight of the clay accounts for the top-heavy figures, she said.

The bodies and props for all her figures are made from recycled wood, cloth, old clothing and other discardables. The bodies are built with the help of family members and are stuffed with old clothes and foam from packing boxes. Hands are assembled from old work gloves, feet are made out-grown boots and shoes and when her devil needed a cape, a discarded red picnic table cloth was commandeered and eyes from a plastic owl decoration gave the devil its piercing stare.

Ms. Harriman loans her mannequins for charitable functions and many occasions. This Halloween she accompanied them to the Sanborn Elementary School's haunted house.

"I don't mind loaning them out at all, but I always go with them," she said.

"They're my babies in a way because I've put so much time and effort and energy into them. I wouldn't let them out of my sight."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Police searching for elementary school flasher

By Lisa A. Boudreau

Police are investigating a report of a man who allegedly exposed himself to two young girls at West Elementary School last Tuesday, Oct. 23. According to school officials two girls, ages 6 and 7, were pushed into one of the school's gyms around 4:30 p.m. by a man who then made lewd remarks and exposed himself.

Jack Coyle, the school's principal, said the two girls were children of mothers who were at the school volunteering with a Girl Scout and Brownie troop that meets at the school.

According to police reports the two girls were "coaxed" by the man into the old gymnasium near the troop meeting area, said Police Safety Officer Jack Milne. The man made lewd remarks to the girls and then exposed himself. He then told the girls to run around and count to 20 while he fled the gym.

No vehicle was observed and the man was believed to have fled on foot towards Beacon Street, said Officer Milne. The man was described as about 40 years old and more than 6 feet tall, with grey-streaked hair.

"Everybody assumed the man was a parent waiting to pick up his child," said Mr. Coyle.

Mr. Coyle and his staff will be stepping up security measures at the school. Most of the school's 19 entrances and exits will be locked during the school day and all visitors will be asked to report to the offices to pick up and wear a visitor's pass.

"We're even going to ask that workmen in the building wear badges," said Mr. Coyle.

Officer Milne said flyers with descriptions of the flasher were distributed to each school notifying them

Meeting set for Shawsheen Sq.

A public meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the third floor Conference Room at the Bartlett Street Town Office building regarding preliminary plans that have recently been prepared for traffic signal and other improvements to Shawsheen Square. The improvements will specifically include new traffic signals that will allow protected left turns from Lowell Street to North Main Street and from North Main Street to Haverhill Street and pedestrian crossing of the intersection.

The work is being funded by a Community Development Action Grant associated with the Brickstone Square redevelopment. The engineer who prepared the plans and town planning staff will present the improvement plans in greater detail at the meeting and be available afterwards to answer questions and take comments.

Little opposition to water transfer

By Don Staruk

The sale of water to North Reading did not draw many opponents to a public hearing at the Memorial Hall Library Tuesday night, but even those in favor of the plan expressed the need for a regional approach to managing the Merrimack River.

About 20 persons attended the hearing, most of them state and local officials.

Charles Mower, of Merrimack, N.H., a representative for the Merrimack River Watershed Council, opposed the plan to allow a transfer of up to 1.5 million gallons per day of water from Andover, in the Merrimack River basin, to North Reading, in the Ipswich River basin.

Andover has been supplying North Reading with up to .5 mgd of water on a regular basis since that town's primary well was contaminated by chemicals in 1978.

Forum presented both sides

Due to an editing error, a story on page 3 in last week's Townsman gave the impression that a forum on Question 3 presented only the point of view of those who oppose the Nov. 6 ballot question.

In fact, Michelle Flaherty of Citizens for Limited Taxation spoke at the forum, which was sponsored by the Andover Coalition for Quality Education. The coalition also invited the High Tech Council to participate in the forum but personnel from that group declined, according to Margie Dennis, a member of the Andover Coalition for Quality Education.

No burning leaves in Andover

There is no burning of leaves in Andover, according to Deputy Fire Chief Harold Wright.

That's not a town ordinance but a state law, Dep. Wright said. Open burning is allowed by permit, normally from Jan. 15 to May 1, the deputy said, but is not supposed to be for leaves.

Leaves shouldn't be thrown in with the trash because taxpayers then have to pay to have them burned at the incinerator in North Andover.

The town's new compost site, off High Plain Road on Bald Hill, will be open Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays, through Nov. 24, from 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Residents must remove the leaves from bags or boxes and no debris, such as trash or brush, can be mixed in with the leaves.

This year, Democrat incumbents must go.

Let's put an end to mismanagement of our hard-earned tax dollars-- to year after year of empty political promises-- promises which have brought us only more taxes, fees, and fines.

Let's put an end to government for the politician, and not for the taxpayer.

VOTE REPUBLICAN

The Andover Republican Town Committee supports its Andover citizens who believe it's time for responsible, caring legislators.

The Democrat incumbents think they can turn things around with more taxes. They're wrong.

This year, it's time to vote Republican.

HISTORY

John Ross, master woodworker, and Wes Grace, apprentice, work with participants at the woodworking workshop at the Andover Historical Society. Register now for the next course, beginning Saturday, Nov. 3, at 10 a.m. For more information call 475-2236.

AMC offers two walks on Nov. 4

The Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club offers the public two opportunities to explore the great outdoors and get some exercise on Sunday, Nov. 4. Both events begin at 1:30 p.m.

Walk through the Wood Hill Reservation in Andover. The meeting place is along High Plain Road just west of the Route 495 crossing where the town leaf composting area is located. Call Arthur or Elaine Robins at 475-7507 for information.

The second walk is the par-course at New England Memorial Hospital in Stoneham, an easy two-hour walk around an 18-step aerobic course planned for exercise and fun. Meet in the parking lot to the right of the hospital at 1:30 p.m. Call Lomer Pothier at 475-5228 for information.

AMC slide show set Nov. 7

The Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club will present a slide lecture by Bob Bentley, chairperson of all AMC major excursions, on Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. in Andover's newly refurbished Old Town Hall.

Mr. Bentley's presentation will include a trip on cross-country skis through Lapland and a bicycle tour of Nova Scotia.

This is AMC new members' evening and all members and friends are invited and encouraged to bring a friend who shares this interest.

Call Lomer Pothier at 475-5228 for information.

Winter coats needed

The Greater Lawrence Board of Realtors is conducting a drive to collect warm and usable winter clothing for children and adults in need.

Warm winter coats are especially needed. Children's clothing will be sent to the Leahy School in Lawrence and adult coats and jackets will be forwarded to Lazarus House and the local Salvation Army.

J.B. Doherty at 12 Bartlet St. will be the Andover drop-off location.

To Our Customers In Andover

We're expanding your toll-free local calling area.

- Where local call originates
- Previous Free Calling Area
- ▨ New, expanded Free Calling Area

Each telephone exchange in Eastern Massachusetts has a toll-free local calling area. As a result of a recent Department of Public Utilities ruling, yours was one of many toll-free local calling areas expanded to include all bordering telephone exchanges. Which means that some of your calls that had been toll calls are now local calls.

The dialing arrangement to your additional exchange or exchanges may not have changed. You may still have to dial 1 or 1 plus Area Code to reach the number you're calling, but you won't pay toll charges.

If you have Unlimited Local Service, you'll have unlimited toll-free local calling to all bordering exchanges. If you have Measured Service, you'll be charged local usage rates for calls.

And when you do call beyond your toll-free local calling area but within the Eastern Massachusetts calling area, you can take advantage of our new, lower toll rates. So whether you call for business or pleasure, it won't cost as much to stay in touch on New England Telephone.

BUSINESS

Raytheon names Picard new CEO

Dennis J. Picard was elected chairman and CEO of Raytheon Company, effective March 1.

He will succeed Thomas L. Phillips, 66, who retires effective that date after 42 years with the company. Mr. Phillips has been the chief executive officer for the last 22 years.

Mr. Picard, 58, has been president of Raytheon since Aug. 1, 1989. Prior to that he was senior vice president and general manager of the Missile Systems Division, Raytheon's largest division.

Named to succeed Mr. Picard as president is Max E. Bleck, president of Beech Aircraft Corporation, Raytheon's largest subsidiary. Mr. Bleck, 63, has been president of Beech Aircraft since May 1987. In addition, he was elected to the Raytheon board of directors effective immediately.

In announcing these elections by the board of directors, Mr. Phillips said, "These steps will complete the transition of senior management at Raytheon. Dennis Picard will become CEO after leading our efforts to become an acknowledged leader in defense electronics. Max Bleck will assume the presidency after turning Beech Aircraft Corporation around to a steady growth in profitability. Both men have outstanding leadership qualities with a strong business acumen. Raytheon Company will be in good hands."

The board noted that Mr. Bleck would be expected to serve a minimum of five years and go beyond the normal retirement age of 65. He will relocate from Kansas to Massachusetts during a transition period in the next four months.

Raytheon employees donate gifts for Persian Gulf troops

U.S. Vice President J. Danforth Quayle accepted a truckload of gifts donated by Raytheon Company employees for U.S. troops in the Persian Gulf.

Raytheon Senior Vice President and Missile Systems Division General Manager William H. Swanson presented the donations to Vice President Quayle in an afternoon reception at Hanscom Air Force Base in Bedford, Mass.

The items donated included disposable razors, lip balm, sunscreen, magazines, paperbacks, stationery, playing cards, audio tapes, model kits and sports equipment.

Raytheon set up collection boxes at its missile systems division facilities in Bedford, Tewksbury, Lowell and Andover. More than 14,000 employees work at the four locations.

Gillette Company road races raise funds for the United Fund

The Gillette Company recently held a series of road races to kick off their employee campaign to raise monies for the Merrimack Valley United Fund.

The winners of each race received $100 to donate to United Fund agencies of their choice. Don Norton, first-place winner of the four-mile race, donated $100 to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children; Gordon Duffy, second-place winner, donated $100 to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children; Dave Cronin, first-place winner of the two-mile fun run, donated $100 to the North Essex Council Boy Scouts; Joe Abdo, second-place winner, donated $100 to the Merrimack Valley Red Cross; Barbara Strand, participant in the one-mile walk, donated $100 to Wilmington Family

Receiving the checks were: Jill Brennan, president, Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children; John H. Carroll Jr., executive director, Merrimack Valley Red Cross; Harry R. Bedell Jr., board member, North Essex Council Boy Scouts; Kevin J. Sowyrda, president, Wilmington Family Counseling Service; and Joseph B. Doherty Jr., vice president, Lawrence Boys' Club.

The Merrimack Valley United Fund supports health and human service agencies throughout the Merrimack Valley and Southern New Hampshire.

Last year 203,795 people received help from United Fund agencies.

La Patisserie donates funds to needy

Results are in from the annual Breadfest, a drive sponsored each fall by the National Retail Baker's Association to raise money or donate baked goods to the needy. La Patisserie, in Andover, participated by donating 50 cents from every sale of a loaf of bread to two local food pantries.

La Patisserie recently presented two checks for $150 each, one to Linda Scott of The Woburn Council of Social Concern, and one to Jim Fitzgerald of Bread and Roses in Lawrence.

"It was a privilege to meet and talk with these wonderful, caring people. Community concern and generosity were constant themes reiterated by both recipients as being the strength that keeps their operations going," said Mary Ann Stasio, Andover manager.

Ms. Scott and Mr. Fitzgerald had heartwarming stories to tell of the much valued support they received, including elderly folks who stop by with a can of vegetables, businesses and corporations who donate and student volunteers.

Ms. Scott said, "We serve 340 to 350 individuals, many of whom are families. Last year one mother was finally able to serve a Thanksgiving turkey to her 4-year-old son for the first time."

With La Patisserie's donation, The Woburn Pantry will be able to purchase foods for 12 cents a pound at the Boston Food Bank and to issue some $10 certificates for purchases at local markets. Ms. Scott said her council is looking for donations for Thanksgiving baskets.

The Kravetz Group announces new fund to help bring new products to market

The Kravetz Group, a consulting firm located at 1 Elm Square, has announced the formulation of The Kravetz Group Venture Fund.

The Venture Fund's charter, above pure funding, will be to provide senior level advice to individuals and/or companies who wouldn't normally be able to afford this caliber of help.

The purpose of this fund is to seek out, help develop and bring to market promising new ideas, technologies, products and emerging businesses, particularly focused in, but not limited to, footwear, athletics and high performance apparel.

"We have consulted to some of the most respected companies in the footwear, athletic and high performance clothing business and we feel we can help turn good ideas into businesses and emerging companies into successful companies," said President Stanley Kravetz.

Mr. Kravetz is best known for his nine years spent at Timberland. In 1985 he purchased and ran The Frye Company before selling it to The Rockport Company, a division of Reebok International. After two years as president of Rockport and corporate vice president of Reebok, Mr. Kravetz founded The Kravetz Group.

He is assisted by Alan Kravetz, a lawyer with an MBA in finance, and Debbie Kravetz, brand marketing and promotion specialist.

RECYCLING

School recycling program owes thanks to Joyce Ringleb

By Virginia Cole

In the Andover public schools, hands-on recycling is taking place. All the schools are recycling plastic products used in their cafeterias and all are or are about to begin recycling paper.

This is the second and sometimes third year for some schools so we hope the experience will be one people expect in the lives of the students, and of course carries over to their homes and eventually to their work places.

Every facet of the schools have become involved, from the custodians down to or up, as you may see it in terms of value to recycling efforts, the superintendent of schools, each level is doing its part.

Teachers and principals are helpful, supportive or actually organizing efforts, but the students are the main thrust, the cog that does the work and often the ones who make sure the materials are ready in the right place for pick-up.

Andover can give

the credit for this really massive long standing involvement to Joyce Ringleb.

Mrs. Ringleb is a member of Andover Recycling and the Andover Garden Club, a former teacher and always an environmentalist. She has talked, cajoled and even bullied her way to the top and the bottom of the school structure and won friends and supporters everywhere.

From the schools that are not yet fully involved, come telephone calls from young students asking, "Are you the one to talk to to help us get started?" The answer is always yes. She speaks in the schools, to teachers, principals, parents and students. Always back to the students.

Mrs. Ringleb plans educational units on the broadest of conservation topics and the narrower ones of recycling. She takes students on trips to see facilities that save or burn. She sends for and provides teaching materials for classes. She has been ably assisted by Al Cayots' science classes and those of Paula Eichman and the Green Team, as well as others.

Student government groups have been her focus because she believes this project or this awareness must be continued, not just by Joyce Ringleb on the phone or down at the school directing the placement of collections boxes, but by real dedication from continuing generations of students.

Most student activities have a life of their own. As one class moves on, the next is ready to carry on. No one worries that there won't be a football team next year. Students, teachers, parents, the budget, something will see that the sports goes on.

Andover's recycling efforts have still needed outside help to get them going each year. Joyce

Ringleb is that help. generations of great vote of appreciation and thanks. Andover and these youngsters owe her a

Mount Rushmore flag coming here

The Andover Patriotic Holiday Committee is looking for volunteers to help with ceremonies scheduled for Founders Day, May 5. To begin the five-year series of events that will culminate with Andover's 350th Anniversary in 1996, Andover will host the world famous Mount Rushmore Flag as a part of the Founders Day Festivities.

The famed Mount Rushmore Flag will be unfurled and raised at the Andover Playstand next to the Doherty Middle School by townspeople. The flag measures 45 feet by 90 feet (far larger than the average American house), weighs 300 pounds and is flown from a 100-foot bar raised by a crane. It was first flown on July 4, 1987, on the face of Abraham Lincoln at Mount Rushmore, S.D. Plans for Founders Day 1991 are well under way but volunteers and suggestions are being solicited. Call Veterans Service Agent John Lewis.

Nicole Costello examines a water sample taken from the Shawsheen River. A student at Pike School, Nicole and several classmates learned about water quality hands on.

Ten eighth-graders from the Pike School joined other young scientists in testing the waters of the Merrimack River and its tributaries.

Students from more than 25 schools in Massachusetts and New Hampshire are participating in a project under the direction of Judith Kelley, a chemistry professor at the University of Lowell.

Pike students drew water from the Shawsheen River in three Andover locations on Oct. 18. Samples taken at the bridges on Essex, Central and Andover streets enabled students to compare the results of tests. These included oxygen content, bacteria count, temperature, pH and turbidity.

On the same day, hundreds of students from other schools took water samples from the Merrimack and its tributaries between northern New Hampshire and Newburyport. As tests are completed, data are being fed through computers in participating schools to ULowell's computer network. Test results will be discussed at a congress of participants Thursday, Nov. 4, at ULowell.

The aim of this project is sociological as well as scientific, Professor Kelley said. Students are learning techniques used in water testing and will use computers to share their results with one another.

This information will alert students to the need to effect positive change in determining the future of the Merrimack watershed, Professor Kelley said. These byproducts of the testing complement the explorative, discovering nature of Pike's eighth-grade science curriculum, said Dianne Rice, a Pike science teacher.

The students, who came from 28 high and middle schools in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, were joined by education staff from the Mass. Division of Fisheries and Wildlife and the N.H. Department of Fish and Game.

They monitored water quality of the Merrimack and its tributaries from its headwaters in the Franconia Notch section of New Hampshire to the mouth of the river in Newburyport.

The program allows students to work with scientists "who have an active interest in using the students' data," according to a spokeswoman at the Division of Fisheries and Wildlife. It gives students a chance to work on "real conservation issues," she said.

Participating in the water testing were Andover students Richard Abelson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Mark B. Abelson of 26 Phillips St.; Ian McArthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry McArthur of 17 Wyncrest Circle; and Timi Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ranjan Ray of 8 Cricket Circle.

Today's the last day for discounts on Disney trip

The Department of Community Services is accepting reservations for the April school vacation trip to Walt Disney World in Orlando, Fla. All deposits received by Thursday, Nov. 1, will receive a $10 per person reduction.

Vacationers will leave Saturday, April 13, and return Friday, April 20. The trip includes round-trip motorcoach fare from Andover to Logan Airport; round-trip air transportation via regularly scheduled flights; use of a car for four days; eight-day of hotel accommodations; a four-day pass to Disney including MGM Studios; and admission to Sea World for one day.

The cost of the entire tour is $729 per person, based on double occupancy; $649 per person, triple occupancy; $619 per person, quad occupancy; $459 per child, 2 to 17 years of age, sharing room with two full-paying adults.

Make checks payable to Groups Inc. A $100 minimum deposit per person should be returned to Department of Community Services offices, Bartlett Street, Andover 01810.

With this issue, the Townsman begins a continuing column, Youth Line. Anyone who wishes, adult or child, is encouraged to call or write and ask a question, which will be answered by three people: a member of the Peer Leadership Corps at Andover High School; Laura Goodman, a psychotherapist who works at the Delphi Center, 68 Park St.; and Perry Catlin, a parent who is editor of the Townsman.

People may phone the peer leaders at the Delphi Center, 475-8690, Mondays from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. to ask the question, or they may write it down and send it to the Delphi Center or to the Townsman, 89 N. Main St.

Worried

Dear Worried:

First of all I would like to thank you for calling the Youth Line. It's great that you're showing concern for your mom, but unfortunately there's nothing you can do to speed things up. Marriage is a big step in life, and when your mom and her boyfriend are ready, they will make the commitment.

Peer counselor

Dear Worried:

Unfortunately, we cannot protect others from feelings such as sadness or loneliness. It must be difficult for you to feel your mom may be hurting. You must, however, understand that the possibility of your mom's marriage is beyond your control. The best way for you to help mom is to let her know how much you support and care for her. The rest is up to them.

Psychotherapist

Dear Worried:

I agree with the two other answers: You both have to live your own lives. I also would like to add that they may decide not to marry and there are many single people who are happy and fulfilled. But your mom will take care of herself, just as you're growing up to take care of yourself. In the meantime, let her know you care about her and support her.

David Hobbs, center, an interpreter from Plimoth Plantation, talks to Sanborn Elementary School third-graders about what life was like for the Pilgrims. Dressed in the styles of the day - brought from the plantation by Mr. Hobbs - students Andrew Bellistri and Andrea Gordon give their classmates an idea of how they would have looked if they'd been born in the 17th century.

Living proof that expert cardiac care touches many hearts.

On May 16, 1987, the Barton family had a heart attack. When Victor Barton felt chest pains that Saturday morning, the only thing his wife Elaine knew for sure was that he needed medical attention fast. The fact that New England Memorial was only a few miles away made their choice an easy one. The care they would receive that night would make their choice the right one.

After Victor was stabilized, our nutritionists, rehabilitation experts and cardiac specialists put together an individually tailored program of preventive cardiac care. We also provide family counseling and training in the provision of home after-care.

Victor Barton and Dr. Aubrey Nickman

On May 16, 1987, the cardiac care team at New England Memorial gave a Stoneham family something more than medical care. They gave them a second chance.

Pride & Joy

Small Wonder. Happy Family. Smart Hospital.

At Anna Jaques Hospital we think the birth of a baby is a profound family experience. That's why, this fall, we have proudly unveiled an extraordinary new concept in obstetric care, unlike anything in the Greater Boston area. We call it Pride and Joy, the Seacoast Birth Center.

For the very first time, you can enjoy a truly family-centered birth experience, involving your family to whatever degree you choose. You may spend as much time as you like with your newborn, in your cozy private room, and your husband can even stay overnight with you. Grandparents and siblings, relatives and friends, have extended visitation privileges too. Our services include:

- A top-notch, medical staff that is caring as well as technically proficient.
- Ultra-modern single-site birthing care providing flexibility and choice in all phases of the birth process.
- 24-hour in-house Anesthesia, providing you with a choice of options.
- A capable, cross-trained nursing staff, skilled in both mother and baby care.
- Luxuriously decorated rooms creating a soothing atmosphere.
- The safety and security of a community hospital. We're close by and ready, 24-hours a day, with free parking.

One look at our new facility and you'll understand why it's our Pride & Joy.

Montessori school holds crafts fair

The Andover School of Montessori, a non-profit preschool located in North Andover, is holding its fourth annual craft show Saturday, Nov. 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the North Andover Middle School at the corner of Route 125 and Main Street.

Crafters will display and sell handmade items. Some of these include dried florals, hand-knitting, pottery, baked goods and holiday gifts and decorations. A turkey will be raffled, and a popular warrior turtle will be scouting the area.

Martha Busby of Andover will be one of the exhibitors.

This event, sponsored by the preschoolers' parents, is the school's biggest public fundraiser of the year. The donation is $1.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Play is the baby's education, and the mobile child of five- to eight-month old needs more time for it. Toys must keep pace with development. When the baby can sit unsupported or get about by creeping or crawling, he or she needs toys that can be pulled and pushed and that will move just as the baby does. The baby is ready for a music box, too. By now, he or she can distinguish and locate sounds, and nothing holds the attention as music does. Add a ball, too. A five- to eight-month old delights in pushing it, watching it roll away and then scooting after it.

You will enjoy seeing the beautiful selection of baby things at TINY TOTLAND. Leading brand name furniture including Simmons, Childcraft, Bassett & Morigeaux. We carry everything from pacifiers to strollers. Open 9-5:30 M. & Th. 9-9. Tel. 1-603-623-6171 for TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, NH "Where Quality Costs You Less."

"YOU'LL GET MORE FOR YOUR MONEY WITH GROUP 50 PLUS."

"It's true. Andover Bank has created a checking program that gives back more than you put in. Group 50 Plus is more than a checking account. It's an interest bearing account with a low minimum — only $100 — and other benefits like periodic special rates on CD's, nationwide travel discounts, emergency cash advance for Visa or MasterCard, pharmacy discounts, and much more. To qualify, simply show us that you're 50 or more.

For Andover Bank customers, just tell us you'd like to sign up. We'll make the switch for you. There's nothing to close and no new account number to remember. To transfer from another bank, just give us your authorization and a $100 deposit. Within 24 hours, you'll have a better checking account than you have now, plus more benefits than you can imagine.

Anyone looking to get more out of a bank account will get more with Group 50 Plus. To find out about all the benefits of Group 50 Plus just phone, stop by, or send in this information request form. You'll realize that you really are the most important customer we'll ever have."

Andover High students snack healthily at the school's new student-run frozen yogurt concession. Profits from the sales benefit the Marketing Club.

Entrepreneurs make cold cash

By Lisa A. Boudreau

Marketing students at Andover High School are cashing in on health-conscious trends by selling frozen yogurt after school in the student-run store.

"We knew every day after school kids were buying ice cream from the ice cream truck parked outside. That money wasn't going back to the kids," said Joe Spanos, a business teacher at Andover High. Mr. Spanos is also a marketing club adviser along with fellow business teacher JoAnn Samra.

AHS Yogurt Plus is the name of the student operation that began selling chocolate frozen yogurt at a cost of $1.50 last week. The students lease the machine and buy the yogurt supplies. Once those costs are covered, the remaining profit returns to the Marketing Club.

The store also sells Andover T-shirts and sweat clothes as well as school supplies and mugs with the Andover Golden Warrior insignia on them.

The AHS store is the first school store in the state that is completely organized and run by students, Mr. Spanos said. The students order the store supplies, serve the frozen yogurt and keep the store's books, he said.

"All the money earned goes back to the marketing students," Ms. Samra said.

The money raised will help defray costs of Marketing Club field trips and trips for students who qualify for state and national marketing competitions. Andover marketing students have finished in the top 8 percent every year at the state level during the past decade, Mr. Spanos said.

About 80 students belong to the Marketing Club, and about one-quarter of them are actively involved in running AHS Yogurt Plus.

Educator talks on self-esteem

"Understanding Children's Self-Esteem" is the title of a workshop led by Dr. Lillian Arleque Thursday, Nov. 8, from 7 to 9:45 p.m. at the Days Inn on River Road.

The workshop is designed to give parents, educators and people who work with children insights on self-esteem.

Participants will learn how to develop the five components of self-esteem in children and become aware of the behaviors children with low self-esteem manifest, Dr. Arleque said. Participants will also discover the importance of using touch to improve communication with children, she said.

Dr. Arleque, a resident of Andover, has conducted numerous self-esteem workshops for parents, educators and children. Her presentations combine music, group activities and lecture.

An educator with 23 years experience, Dr. Arleque holds a doctorate in education. She completed a self-esteem facilitator and trainer course in Los Angeles, Calif. Dr. Arleque is a member of the National Council on Self-Esteem and the National Speakers' Association.

For more information, call 685-3786.

Mr. Spanos and Ms. Samra are working with the school administration, which gave a thumbs-up to the venture, to find a way to compensate these students with either credits toward the marketing competitions or a lower fee for transportation to the field trips and the New York City buying trip later this year.

The students are only allowed to sell the frozen yogurt after school hours between 2 and 6 p.m., so that its business doesn't compete with the school's food service operation, which sells school lunches and snacks before school.

A Pleasant Surprise.

A woman Republican born in Central America! In the Valley, that's the ultimate in minority candidates.

But Alba Castillo has a couple of surprises for you—pleasant ones.

For example, Alba is a highly successful business woman. She runs a law practice with offices in two cities. She owns an insurance agency with eight offices. She owns a travel agency with several offices. She knows what meeting a payroll every week means. And how hard it is for small businesses to survive in Massachusetts. Especially in the Valley.

Alba is a practicing attorney. She is also a former law professor. She understands the law and what's needed to fix our neglected criminal justice system.

Alba Castillo is the daughter of a Mexican diplomat. She was born and raised in Honduras. When her parents were divorced, she and her mother came to America when her mother needed to see medical specialists when she became ill. She understands the importance of quality, affordable medical care. Especially for the elderly.

Alba Castillo worked her way through college and law school. She understands the value of education and why excellence in education is the key to opportunity.

She was a Medicaid fraud investigator in the Attorney General's office. She knows all about the scams cheaters can play. And she knows that our welfare system encourages people to cheat because it intentionally divides families.

Alba Castillo is a former Democrat who changed parties because she saw the values of the Democratic Party deteriorate in the hands of elitists and special interest activists who seized it from the working people.

Surprised? Well, you'll be even more pleasantly surprised when Alba Castillo is your State Senator. She'll do the job the way it's supposed to be done: your way.

Alba Castillo. She may speak with an accent, but you'll like what she has to say. You'll be proud of her.

Student artists display work

Grassfields Restaurant will exhibit art work by West Elementary School students throughout the year. Art work will be individually featured by students at each grade level.

West art teacher Sally J. Wolfe and Ted Kennedy, manager of Grassfields, have developed a cooperative educational partnership.

"Patrons of Grassfields will enjoy the artistic efforts of the town children," Ms.

Wolfe said. And Grassfields plans to provide funds for equipment for the school's art department needs.

"This is an especially beneficial alliance for the school in light of recent budget constraints," Ms. Wolfe said.

The kick-off presentation, a "spooktacular" Halloween mural by the fourth grade, will be on display in the Shawsheen Plaza restaurant about a month.

Schools hold weekend fairs

St. John's Preparatory School in Danvers will hold its third annual craft fair Saturday, Nov. 3, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in Memorial Gymnasium. Fifty craftpeople will sell handmade articles including jewelry, clothing and home accessories.

St. Mary's High School alumnae Christmas fair will be held Sunday, Nov. 4, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at St. Mary's Auditorium, corner of White and Haverhill streets, Lawrence.

Lunch and a turkey dinner will be served.

ECC fair raises funds for school

A crisp fall day was the perfect backdrop for the ECC fair. Families and friends of past, present and future Shawsheen students enjoyed the crafts, games, baked goods, face painting and, of course, apples.

A raffle of theme baskets was new this year. The school's Parent-Teacher Organization thanked the merchants and others who contributed goods and services. PTO officers said they also appreciated the time, energy and skills of the fair volunteers.

Proceeds from the fair are used for cultural enrichment and the kindergarten and first grade school newsletter, "The Cocoon," the biggest fund-raiser yet.

The winners of the raffle were Nancy McGarry, picnic basket; Shirley Liakos, children's basket; Heather Ryan, beauty basket; Rich Capano, holiday basket; Pam Newman, night on the town; the Seero family, service basket; Lee Retelle, birthday basket; Joanne Robinson, sports basket; Dawn Elder, baby basket; and the Ben family, plant basket.

Don't read this.

John F. MacGovern

You shouldn't read this, unless you care to learn the truth.

My opponent, incumbent congressman Chester Atkins, has been running an advertisement against me which the Boston Herald rightly calls "an outright distortion".

Why does an incumbent stoop to that?

Middlesex News columnist Ed Achorn wrote that Atkins' advertising "sounds like the work of a desperate man ... Isn't Atkins deceiving the voters'?"

Mark Twain once said that "a lie can travel halfway around the world while the truth is still putting on its shoes."

Let's stop one lie dead in its tracks right here.

My opponent's advertising implies that I'm prejudiced, but when reporters ask him if he's accusing me of that, he says no.

The truth is, he knows that I am described by reporters who have covered me as the very opposite of a prejudiced person. A Boston Globe reporter researched my past and summed up my life in the headline: "Independent Thinker". I've been described in newspapers as a "creative conservative," an environmentalist, as "honest and thoughtful" ... but never once that I'm prejudiced. And I deeply resent the attempt at character assassination.

I condemn bigotry, racism, anti-Semitism, anti-Catholicism, and I condemn the kind of smear tactics that are employed by a politician trying to divert attention from his own record. It is understandable that Chester Atkins would like voters to forget that as Democratic party chairman under Dukakis he has been part of a monopoly that has brought this state to its knees. But fear of losing is no excuse.

Let's consider the real issues:

S.O.S. Save Our State.

We need to send a message to the rest of the country that we are turning things around in this state. Defeating Dukakis's Democratic chairman would send a message that we are ending the liberal one-party monopoly.

Taxes.

The average taxpayer already works over 40% of the year to pay for government, at all levels. My opponent voted to raise taxes on the middle class, and on the elderly, yet voted to give himself a third pay raise within the same year. I have a 100% pro-taxpayer rating from C.L.T. My opponent is rated 100% liberal by the liberal A.D.A. (Americans for Democratic Action).

Wasteful spending.

We could cut 20% out of the federal bureaucracy — in waste, duplication, consultants, lawyers, advertising, and other overhead — without cutting services or benefits. Chester Atkins votes for waste like: a ferryboat for Samoa, a fish refuge for Iowa, translating Playboy magazine into braille, elevator operators for automatic elevators. I support giving the president a line-item veto so that he can veto single wasteful programs. I also support the balanced budget tax-limitation amendment.

Crack down on violent crime.

I believe in longer jail sentences for violent crime and I support the death penalty. My opponent voted against the death penalty for drug-related killings. He voted against taking $45 million for anti-drug program from Congress' mass mail fund. He then did a mass mailing saying he was against drugs and crime. We need tougher law enforcement, not more political posturing.

Workfare, not welfare.

I believe the welfare system is a failure. It undermines the very values we need to break the cycle of poverty: individual responsibility, family, security against crime, and the work ethic. We need to end fraud and abuse. We need to cut the Legal Services budget so that federal lawyers aren't protecting drug dealers from being evicted from public housing.

Education.

I support giving parents more choice on where they send their children, through education vouchers or tuition tax credits. We need to encourage more parents to participate in classroom teaching. We should reward good teaching with higher pay. We should return more of the federal education budget to local schools.

Health care.

I favor providing tax credits for individuals buying long-term health insurance. I oppose Atkins' proposal that would "force someone in a nursing home to sell his home and use the money to pay nursing home bills". Confiscating people's homes would set a dangerous precedent. I oppose Atkins' earlier vote for the catastrophic tax of up to $800 per senior, per year. I also oppose his vote to increase Medicare premiums.

As you can see, there is a clear choice.

If you are happy with the way things are in Massachusetts, vote for Chester Atkins. He represents the liberal Dukakis policies in Washington that have failed here.

But, if you want change, I ask for your vote and support.

I believe it's time for a new beginning.

Sincerely,

John F. MacGovern

A vote for Gary Coon is a vote for Positive Change

Dear Voter,

I'm running for state representative because I want to bring a positive change to our state government. As I've campaigned door-to-door throughout Andover and Lawrence, I've met thousands of voters, and they've told me they also want change.

The old solutions just aren't working. We need a new perspective...a fresh outlook.

We need a representative who understands that a healthy economy must be a top priority, and one who knows that we must cut the waste from state government.

I'm not a career politician, I'm a citizen, like you, who wants to make a difference.

I grew up in Andover, and I care about our community. I've worked in private business and started my own company. I've faced the challenges of balancing a budget, and I've found creative solutions to problems.

Working together, we can solve the state's fiscal problems and put the economy back on track.

I can't do it alone.

I need your vote on November 6.

Sincerely,

Gary

You Decide.

Compare the candidates on the issues and see which one you agree with.

Jim Rappaport

1. Taxes

According to the Tax Foundation, John Kerry has voted to increase taxes five times in the Senate.

As Chairman of MASS TAXPAYERS, Jim Rappaport has been leading the fight against higher taxes in Massachusetts. Jim has pledged, "As a Senator, I won't vote for any tax increase, period. People are already overtaxed."

2. Philosophy

John Kerry was Michael Dukakis' Lieutenant Governor. He and Dukakis ran as a team and were elected as a team. As Dukakis' Lieutenant Governor, Kerry worked with Dukakis to jointly develop their economic plan for the state.

Jim Rappaport believes that the moderate voters of Massachusetts deserve a voice in the U.S. Senate.

Kerry campaigned for Dukakis for president, telling everyone that Mike Dukakis and his policies should govern the whole country.

Jim has been chairman of MASS TAXPAYERS for three years. While Kerry was campaigning for Dukakis, Jim was traveling around Massachusetts warning that the tax and spend policies of Dukakis and Kerry would ruin our state and national economies.

3. Drug Testing and Crime

John Kerry voted against mandatory drug and alcohol testing for people whose jobs involve the public's safety including airline pilots and train engineers. (S1485)*

Jim Rappaport strongly supports drug testing of anyone entrusted with the lives and safety of the public. The public has a right to protect itself against the use of drugs or alcohol by airline pilots, train engineers, and others whose actions may threaten the public's safety.

John Kerry opposes the death penalty. He even voted against the death penalty for terrorists who kill Americans abroad. (S1798)

Jim Rappaport believes the death penalty should be available in any first degree murder case.

4. Welfare/Workfare

John Kerry voted against requiring one parent in a two-parent family to spend 16 hours a week working in community service if the family is receiving welfare. (CQ188, 88).**

Jim Rappaport believes that it is reasonable to require one parent out of two to work part-time as a condition of receiving welfare. "After all," Jim says, "The people paying the taxes that pay for welfare are working full-time, or more, to support the welfare system."

5. Government Waste

John Kerry voted to give himself $2 million of taxpayer money to send out political junk mail promoting his re-election. (CQ 119, 86, CQ 281, 89). Kerry also voted against repealing the 1987 pay raise Congress voted itself, (CQ222, 87), and he voted against postponing the pay raise until voters had a chance to comment on it. (CQ303, 89).

Jim Rappaport believes that, "Senators should not spend a penny of tax money for their own re-election. I will vote to eliminate this 'franking privilege.' It's a disgrace." As for pay raises, Jim's position is, "No Congressional pay raise should ever take effect until after the next election. This gives voters a chance to register their approval or disapproval."

6. Balanced Budget Amendment

John Kerry voted against the balanced budget amendment. This measure failed by one vote — John Kerry's vote. (CQ045, 86)

Jim Rappaport favours and will vote for a balanced budget amendment. "This issue demonstrates how important one vote can be. If I had been Senator instead of John Kerry, we would now have a balanced budget amendment — and a balanced budget."

7. The Role of a Senator

John Kerry has focused on the problems of Central America and foreign policy, so much so that five democratically elected senators from Costa Rica wrote a letter to the U.S. Senate protesting Kerry's interference in the internal affairs of their country.

Jim Rappaport believes that a senator's responsibility is to focus on the problems that directly affect people in the senator's home state . . . problems such as taxes, education, health care, and jobs.

Don't give up your strong voice in Washington

Tuesday is Election Day.

When you come to the choice for US Representative from the Fifth Congressional District, stop and think.

Both of your choices are incumbents.

One of them is John MacGovern.

He has had a very undistinguished career as a legislator on Beacon Hill.

He has opposed tougher gun laws.

He is supported by the National Rifle Association.

He has consistently voted against a woman's right to choice in abortion . . . even in cases of rape or incest!

In the last three years, he has failed to show up for 73 tax and budget votes in the Legislature.

He refuses to resign from the Board of the hate-mongering Dartmouth Review . . . even though it ridicules and insults women and minorities.

He has accepted thousands of dollars in contributions from special interest PACs. So he is indebted to tobacco interests, oil company executives, the NRA and more.

Your other choice for Congressman from the Fifth District is Chet Atkins. Chet Atkins has consistently supported a woman's right to choice.

Chet Atkins has sponsored a bill to ban assault rifles.

He has authored the law under which drug dealers can be evicted from public housing.

He takes no special interest money from PACs.

Chet Atkins cast the key vote to charge Jim Wright, the Speaker of the US House of Representatives, with wrongdoing . . . when establishment Democrats were afraid to take a stand.

Chet Atkins is fighting to make the rich pay their fair share of taxes. And he voted to cut the Federal budget deficit by 500 billion dollars.

So before you vote on Tuesday . . . ask yourself which of these incumbents speak with a strong, independent voice for the things you believe in.

Then vote for the one who will take your beliefs to Washington.

Couple marries at St. Robert's

Kathleen Marie Murphy and John Gilbert Hulme were married July 7 at St. Robert Bellarmine Church in Andover by the Rev. Paul McManus.

The bride is the daughter of James F. Murphy of 256 River Road and the late Sandra M. Murphy; and the groom is the son of Gilbert and Marlene Hulme of Amherst, N.H.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Patricia Murphy of Andover as maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were Eileen Murphy of Andover, Pam Nicastro of Windham, N.H., Danielle Hulme of Amherst, N.H., Angela Swift of Danvers and Sue Shields of South Boston. Kelly Murphy of Andover was a junior bridesmaid, and Maggie Murphy of Andover was a flower girl.

Paul Dahm of Lowell was the best man. Serving as ushers were Mike Hagedorn of Dallas, Texas, Alan Hutson of Baltimore, Md., John Maiolo of Norwalk, Conn., John Langill of Apalachin, N.Y., and Wes Kile of Lewistown, Pa. Mark and Brian Murphy of Andover were ring bearers.

The bride's gown was designed by the House of Blanche in tissue taffeta with cap sleeves and a bodice adorned with appliques and pearls. Its soft V-back fell to a bow. She wore a matching double-bow headpiece and carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

A reception at DiBurro's followed the ceremony. The couple took a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico.

degree in industrial management from the University of Lowell in 1989. She is employed by Landis and Gyr Powers.

The groom, also an '89 graduate of ULowell, earned his bachelor of science degree in management with a concentration in accounting. He works at Waste Management.

The couple lives in Andover.

Elizabeth Morris, Michael Quinn to wed

Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Morris of 197 Shawshen Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Ford, to Capt. Michael A. Quinn of Groveland.

Miss Morris is a 1983 graduate of Andover High School and holds a bachelor of business administration degree from North Adams State College. She is a project manager in Digital Consulting Inc.'s marketing and advertising department.

Her fiancé is a graduate of the University of New Hampshire and is pursuing a graduate degree at Lesley College. Capt. Quinn is the personnel manager at Haverhill Paperboard Corp. and an aviation officer in the U.S. Army Reserve.

A November wedding is planned.

Make sure your social announcement is typed and double-spaced. Include a number.

DAR chapter celebrates centennial

The Betsy Ross/Samuel Adams Chapter of the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution celebrated the society's 100th anniversary Oct. 17.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. William Wilder of Lawrence and Mrs. F. Thomas Schnorrenberg of Andover.

The society, composed of women descendants of American Revolutionary War patriots, is dedicated to providing and promoting historical, educational and patriotic service.

The society presents Good Citizenship Awards to outstanding area high school students each year; supports veterans' hospitals; maintains Appalachia-area schools; and helps foreign-born become U.S. citizens.

Lisa Ellen Barker and John P. Hamel marry

Lisa Ellen Barker and John P. Hamel were married Sept. 8 at St. Augustine Church by the Rev. Peter Gori, O.S.A. of St. Augustine's.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David L. Barker of 4 Downing St.; and the groom is the son of Kathleen M. Hamel of West Springfield and the late Jean-Paul Hamel.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Jane A. Barker of Andover, as maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were Mary Hamel of Wellesley, Sheila McNamara of Boston and Laurie Quint of Watertown.

Donald Bean of Chicopee was the best man. David S. Barker of Andover, brother of the bride, and Glen Ryan of Holyoke and Stephen Modlish of Westfield served as ushers.

The bride wore an ivory gown of satin and lace adorned with mother of pearl and sequins. She carried a cascading bouquet of phalaenopsis and dendrobium orchids, stephanotis and English ivy with pearl sprays.

Lisa Hamel

A graduate of Boston College, the bride is employed as a marketing representative at Workforce Inc.

The groom graduated from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst. He is an account marketing representative at IBM in Waltham.

The couple lives in Andover.

A fashion show Sunday, Nov. 4, by Yolanda at the Andover Marriott will benefit the Creative Living home, a home for mentally retarded adults.

Couple plans December wedding

Bowes of Scarborough, Maine. She graduated from King Philip Regional High School in Wrentham. Ms. Bowes is a catering manager/wedding and social event coordinator at the Andover Marriott Hotel.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip K. Craig of Norfolk, graduated from King Philip Regional High in '84. He is a fence installation foreman at Walpole Woodworkers in Walpole and a self-employed free-lance photographer.

The couple is planning to marry Dec. 30.

RELIGION

UU Church offers basic Spanish

Basic Spanish lessons will be offered at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, beginning Wednesday, Nov. 7.

"In an effort to expand outreach services to the Hispanic community of Lawrence, it is important that we learn Spanish to break through the communication barriers to helping those in need of a variety of community and social services," said course organizer Susan Lambert.

Classes will be offered informally on consecutive Wednesdays from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the church, 6 Locke St., near town center by Phillips Academy student Marta Rivera. Ms. Rivera brings five years' experience with conversational Spanish.

A small fee will be assessed at the Nov. 7 meeting to cover instructional costs. Individuals interested in learning Spanish and joining volunteer outreach services to the Lawrence Hispanic community are urged to attend this organizational session.

Temple religious school holds book fair

Temple Emanuel's religious school and library committee will sponsor a Jewish book fair Sunday, Nov. 4, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and Monday, Nov. 5, from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Jewish holidays, customs and beliefs, Israel and the Holocaust are among the themes that will be highlighted among the book titles for sale. The books are for all ages.

The Judaica shop will be open for the purchase of gifts and Hanukkah items for the upcoming holiday. Discovery Toys for toddlers will also be available.

The fair will be held in the temple's social hall at 7 Haggetts Pond Road.

For more information, contact Ruth Rosensweig, library committee chairwoman, or school Principal David Ginsberg.

Jewish Fellowship plans brunch for new members

The Andover Jewish Fellowship will hold a "get-acquainted" brunch for prospective members Sunday, Nov. 4, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. The brunch will be held at the Conns' home, 87 Cheever Circle.

The Andover Jewish Fellowship is a Reconstructionist community of families committed to providing a Jewish identity and education for its members in a manner that is relevant to contemporary lives, said AJF member Steve Cohen.

Call Mr. Cohen at 470-2542 for more information.

Ballardvale United gets together for annual buffet

Ballardvale United Church will hold its annual traditional candlelight buffet Saturday, Nov. 3, in the church's Shaw Hall.

The menu will include roast beef or roast turkey, with continuous service from 5 to 7 p.m. Salad, home-grown vegetables and desserts will also be available.

The buffet is traditionally the "tag end" of the fair and used to be held on the same night, said Pastor Susan J. Morrison.

The cost is $7 for adults and $3.50 for children under 12. For reservations, call Jane Scholtz at 475-6117 by Friday, Nov. 2, at noon.

Parishioners will also be serving their monthly meal at Bread and Roses Saturday.

Christian Scientist to speak

The question "What are you worth: A Search that Heals" will be addressed at Old Town Hall Thursday Nov. 8, at 8 p.m.

Godfrey John, a member of the Christian Science board of lectureship, will talk about what he sees as the urgent need for an awareness of what constitutes individual and collective worth.

"There must be inner search and discovery," Mr. John said. "From all sides we are being told that satisfaction comes from acquisition. That's getting: getting money, getting fame, getting pleasure."

He will relate the experiences of healing of drug addiction, rejection and financial lack, he said.

Mr. John, a graduate of Cambridge University in England, was once a British amateur heavyweight boxing champion. He has taught college English and written extensively for the Christian Science Monitor.

Annie Lindsay, 88

Born in Scotland

Annie "Nan" Walker Lindsay, 88, formerly of 312 Stowe Court, died Friday, Oct. 26, at Town Manor Nursing Home in Lawrence.

Miss Lindsay was born in Arbroath, Angus, Scotland, June 15, 1902, the youngest daughter of John H. and Isabella (Anderson) Lindsay.

She came to the United States from Scotland in 1923. She was an office payroll clerk at Marlin Mills and J.P. Stevens Co. in Andover until its closing about 38 years ago.

She was a mail clerk at the Andover Cos. until her retirement in the '70s. She also worked part time at the former East Junior High School cafeteria.

Miss Lindsay was a member of Free Christian Church of Andover for about 60 years. She was leader of the June Circle and an active member and pianist of the Women's Union and an active member of the Ladies' Sewing Circle until entering the nursing home in August 1989.

She also served on the diaconate, played piano for the Sunday School and accompanied the pastors monthly to play the piano at a worship service and sing-along for residents of Academy Manor Nursing Home in Andover.

She was a longtime member of Ladies' Auxiliary No. 42 to Clan Johnston Order of Scottish Clans and the Grand Lodge of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Scottish Clans in the United States and Canada. She served as a pianist in the Grand Lodge for 20 years and in the local lodge for many years.

Members of her family include her nephew, Scott Lindsay of Waltham; great-nieces, Laurie Leone of Billerica and Bonnie J. and Jennifer A. Guerin, both of Andover; and several nieces, nephews and cousins in Scotland.

Burial was to be in Spiring Grove Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Building Fund at Free Christian Church, 31 Elm St., Andover, Mass. 01810.

Arrangements were by the Edger-

TOWNTALK

Paul Russell, formerly of Andover, is keeping the rich and famous in stylish, vintage restored cars. Mr. Russell, the son of Francis and Lorraine Russell, of 2 Yale Road, is a 1969 graduate of Andover High. He began working on cars as a teen-ager in his family's garage with his father. Mr. Russell and his wife, Barbara (Fisk), also a 1970 graduate of Andover High, live in Topsfield with their two children, Patrick and Kimberly. Now his company, Gull Wing Service, employs 40 craftsmen and specializes in restoring vintage Mercedes from the 1950s. Gull wing is the style of car that has doors that open from the bottom up to resemble the out-stretched wings of a bird. One of his best customers is fashion designer Ralph Lauren, who has commissioned many works from the Andover native. Recently Mr. Russell's restoration of a 1938 Italian Bugatti finished in first place in the European car category and won best of show in the prestigious Pebble Beach, Calif., vintage car competition.

ANDOVER TOWNSMAN

ELECTION '90

Here's the summary of ballot questions 5 and 6

Six questions will be on the Nov. 6 election ballot. In the past two weeks, the Townsman has published a summary of the first four questions. In this issue, there's a summary of questions 5 and 6.

The information on the questions comes from the office of the secretary of state. The summaries of the questions were written by the state attorney general and the statements describing the results of a yes or no vote were written by the secretary of state.

Question 5: Allocating state aid to cities and towns.

Summary: This proposed law would regulate the distribution to cities and towns of the Local Aid Fund, which consists of at least 40 percent of the revenue generated by the state income, sales, and corporate taxes, as well as the balance of the State Lottery Fund.

Subject to appropriation by the Legislature, the state treasurer would distribute the Local Aid Fund to cities and towns on a quarterly basis, and each city or town would receive at least the same amount of local aid it received in the previous fiscal year unless the total Local Aid Fund decreases.

In fiscal year 1992, if there has been any increase over the fiscal year 1989 fund, half of the increase would be distributed in accordance with the distribution formula used for fiscal year 1989, and half would be distributed to each city and town in proportion to its population.

In each year after 1992, if the fund increases, the excess would be distributed through a formula devised by the state secretary of administration and finance, with the advice and consent of the Local Government Advisory Committee. If the fund decreases after 1992, each town or city will have the amount it receives decreased by the same percentage.

This proposed law also requires that the treasurer publish an annual report about the Local Aid Fund, that the state auditor publish an annual audit of the Account, and that the secretary of administration and finance issue to each city and town an estimate of funds it will receive from the Local Aid Fund.

Each city or town would be allowed to bring a lawsuit to force distribution of the account, and would be entitled to a late payment fee if distribution is not timely.

A YES vote would establish the proposed allocation of state aid to cities and towns.

A NO vote would not establish the proposed allocation of state aid to cities and towns.

Argument for: Bring some of your state tax dollars home to your community to help pay for local services and take some strain off your property taxes.

This question doesn't increase or decrease state or local taxes. Instead it allocates 40 percent of state incomes, sales and corporate taxes for all communities in the Commonwealth as local aid.

No one knows what state revenues will look like next year; everyone's estimates have been wrong since 1988. But whatever the state's revenues, this question would share some of them for local programs like schools, police, fire, snow plowing, which deserve a share of state taxes. The state has sometimes shared revenues with communities; this question makes that sharing consistent and predictable.

This also guarantees that every municipality, urban, suburban and rural, will receive an equitable share of these revenues.

Argument against: This proposal sounds nice, but it won't work. It provides a huge increase in local aid — but no money to pay for it. State support for cities and towns would go up at least $800 million, 32 percent, probably much more by the time the law takes effect.

But that money would have to come from taxes the state uses to pay for other programs. The increase in local aid means fewer dollars for home-care for the elderly, for the sick and disabled, for hazardous waste clean-up and for all the other things the state does.

Apparently the $1.2 billion cities and towns get now for things like libraries, school buildings and other programs will be reallocated. Some places might get more, some less. There is no local aid for regional schools: they now get $250 million. This error-laden bill promises more fiscal chaos in the guise of more local aid.

Question 6: Free and equal broadcast time for candi-

Summary: The Legislature has placed this question on the ballot in order to determine whether the people favor or oppose requiring radio and television broadcast outlets to give free and equal time to all certified candidates for public office in the Commonwealth. The vote on this question is advisory and does not estab-

WHAT YOUR VOTE MEANS

QUESTION 1:

A YES vote would change the state constitution to abolish the state census and substitute the federal census as the basis for state redistricting.

A NO vote would leave the state constitution unchanged, thus continuing the state census and its use as the basis for state redistricting.

QUESTION 2:

A YES vote would establish the proposed restrictions on the state government's use of consultants.

A NO vote would not establish the proposed restrictions on the state government's use of consultants.

QUESTION 3:

A YES vote would make the proposed changes in laws concerning state taxes and fees.

A NO vote would not make the proposed changes in laws concerning state taxes and fees.

QUESTION 4:

A YES vote would change the legal requirements for establishing new political parties and for nominating certain candidates.

A NO vote would leave unchanged the legal requirements for establishing new political parties and for nominating candidates.

QUESTION 5:

A YES vote would establish the proposed allocation of state aid to cities and towns.

A NO vote would not establish the proposed allocation of state aid to cities and towns.

QUESTION 6:

A YES vote would advise that the voters favor requiring radio and television stations to give free and equal time to candidates.

A NO vote would advise that the voters do not favor requiring radio and television stations to give free and equal time to candidates.

ELECTION '90

On the Andover streets, the voters lean towards Silber

Paul Mishkin, of Brighton, an attorney who works at 28 Florence St., was the only person who knew he'd cast a vote for Mr. Weld next Tuesday. He also says he's for Question No. 3.

"Initially I was for Silber. I voted for him in the primary, but the statements he made in his book 'Shooting Straight' about attorneys really turned me off.

"I also don't like his cavalier attitude on raising the gas tax. We aren't all teen-agers tooling around in gas

Silber 'turned me off'

Leslie Wetmore, 6 Karlton Circle, believes Mr. Silber at the helm of the government is the only hope for the state to get out of its fiscal mess. She and her husband, Reach, the varsity men's and women's swim coach at Boston University, are impressed with Mr. Silber's management of BU as president during the past two decades.

Fricka Leistikow, of Maple Avenue, is neither for Mr. Silber nor Mr. Weld.

"This is not a good type of election. All this raking and mud slinging is too much for me."

'Neither one'

Though Ms. Leistikow said she would never "ever vote for a Republican," she isn't sold on the Democratic ticket of Mr. Silber and his Lt. Governor running mate, Marjorie Clapprood.

"I don't care for Mr. Silber. He looks like an angry man with that wrinkled brow and that angry little mouth of his." On his running mate: "I don't like her, either. She has a big mouth and talks too much."

Dave Fair, an Andover mail carrier who lives in Lawrence, said he'll wait until the last minute to decide on which candidate to choose for governor. He believes there's still more mud to be flung by each man.

"I'm not even sure yet" if I'm going to vote, Mr. Fair said. "I don't know if there is anyone worth voting for. I'm just glad that Dukakis is going to get out of there."

Grace George, of Merrimac, works in local bank and said she's a liberal Democrat who will support the Democratic ticket even though it isn't as liberal as she'd like it to be.

"I think I'm going to choke if I have to say this, but I'm going to vote for John Silber ... He's more of a catalyst," for change than Mr. Weld, she said.

John Peracchi, 23 Brady Loop, said Mr. Weld's "flip flopping" on issues has swayed him to support Mr. Silber.

Mr. Weld "has taken the latest polls and decided what to say according to them. He's flip flopping his stand. At least Silber is decided on it," Mr. Peracchi said.

"I'm anti-Rappaport too; that man is such a distortion."

Here's the summary of questions 5 and 6

lish law nor bind the legislature.

A YES vote would advise that the voters favor requiring radio and television stations to give free and equal time to candidates.

A NO vote would advise that the voters do not favor requiring radio and television stations to give free and equal time to candidates.

Argument for: Paid political advertising is killing the electoral process. This non-binding question calls upon television and radio stations to provide equal time, free of charge to candidates for public office.

Broadcasters don't own the airwaves. The people do. We license those airwaves to the broadcasters in return for their commitment to act "in the public interest."

The most basic public interest in a democracy is the free exchange of ideas during an election. Today, however, there is nothing free about that exchange. It is big business for stations and very expensive for candidates. So expensive, in fact, that most politicians run unopposed, special interest money is too influential, and too many elections go to the highest bidder while the level of debate goes to the lowest.

Paid political advertising causes these problems. Free time solves them.

Argument against: Fair treatment by responsible broadcasters should not be subject to another Massachusetts-mandated program administered by politicians for politicians.

This question is irresponsible. It would mean nothing but hours of political advertising daily for candidates running in other towns cluttering your radio and TV.

Broadcast regulation is basically the responsibility of the Federal government. Broadcasters already charge candidates the lowest advertising rate for commercials and provide all candidates with equal access.

Proponents of this question claim that free and equal time would reduce campaign fund raising. What is more likely is that candidates would raise the same money but use it to produce more elaborate commercials, newspaper ads and promote themselves through everything from pot holders to bumper stickers.

This question is unfair to your local radio and television broadcaster who serves you every day, with news and information including the fair coverage of Massachusetts politics and politicians.

ELECTION '90

Heavy election turnout expected

come to an end this Tuesday with a predicted strong voter turnout.

Randy Hanson, town clerk, expects more voters Tuesday than the 9,686 that turned out for the September primary, but isn't sure if the numbers will surpass the 15,557 voters that came out for the 1988 presidential election.

"I imagine this one will be somewhere between both," she said. "I expect it to be very busy. I expect a big turnout."

The town will again be using two polling locations to minimize crowding. Precincts 1, 3 and 8 will vote at the Senior Center in the School Administration Building on Whittier Court, and precincts 2, 4, 5, 6 and 7 will vote at the Andover High School.

Special shuttle buses will be running to accommodate voters at both locations. Some voters found it difficult to park at the high school in the last few minutes before the polls closed for the primaries, so plan ahead.

Ballot questions may cause delays

Along with choosing among the candidates for the several state offices on the ballot, voters will be asked to decide on six initiative or referendum questions. But the questions won't be printed on the ballot, there will only be a space for 'yes' or 'no' answers.

Ms. Hanson expects the ballot questions to cause some confusion for voters, which will probably result in long lines at the polling booths.

"They should come prepared to vote," Ms. Hanson said.

Copies of the six questions will be available for voters to take into the booths with them, but Ms. Hanson strongly recommended studying the questions before hand.

She also suggested bringing a checklist along and to transcribe the answers onto the ballot. (See the Townsman's take-along checklist on page 39 in today's paper.)

This will speed things up for everybody.

Because of the expected large turnout, Ms. Hanson is advising voters to come in early or during off peak hours. The off peak hours are after 9:30 a.m. and before 4 p.m.

Signs of the times along Main and Elm streets earlier this week.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Anyone in line, inside the buildings, before 8 p.m. will be allowed to vote. If they are not inside the doors at 8 p.m., they will not be allowed to vote. That is the law, according to the clerk.

"It might be very busy between 7:30 and 8 p.m.," Ms. Hanson said.

Voter information

The town clerk's office can answer questions regarding who votes where, when to vote and has some information on transportation schedules, at 470-3800 (also page 39 in today's Townsman for the complete schedule of the town's voter shuttlebus service).

The Massachusetts League of Women's Voters has information on issues and candidates, and runs the Voter Information Phone, at 1-800-882-1649.

The Secretary of State's office operates the Massachusetts State Voter Information Line for general information at 1-800-462-8683.

On the Andover streets, the voters lean towards Silber

Kathleen Mattola, 5 Sugarbush Lane, says her votes will cross party lines. She plans to vote for Mr. Silber because he "is the lesser of two evils."

She's supporting Republican challenger Gary Coon for state representative because he impressed her when he went door to door introducing himself in her neighborhood.

She said she'll vote yes on all the ballot questions.

"We have to have a change in government," she said.

The anti CLT people "are trying to scare the elderly and everyone thinks services are going to be cut to the handicapped and elderly. If we get the right people in there that won't happen."

One of the "right people" according to Ms. Mattola is incumbent state senator Patricia McGovern.

"She isn't that bad," Ms. Mattola said.

Louise Ponti, 16 Alden Road, said she'll vote a straight Democratic ticket, supporting Mr. Silber, Rep. Tucker and voting no on the CLT petition.

She supports Mr. Silber and Rep. Tucker because their opponents "don't have the credentials it takes to do the job," Ms. Ponti said. "I'm afraid the heavy negative campaigning will sweep her (Ms. Tucker) out along with the other experienced incumbents. To throw everybody out is irresponsible."

'Silber and Coon'

Maureen Byrne, 17 Hartford Circle, echoed the same voting philosophy. "I support the democratic ticket ... CLT jeopardizes service programs and education and you have to take into consideration the effects on cities that aren't as affluent as Andover," Ms. Byrne said.

Mary Kate Marocco, 17 Ivanhoe Lane, said her votes will also cross party lines. She favors Democratic candidate John Silber for governor, but prefers Republican Gary Coon for state representative. "I don't like the way Sue Tucker has voted in the past," said Ms. Marocco. "I prefer Silber because he is definitely a straight shooting kind of person."

"The problem with Weld is that, because of his affluent background, I'm not sure he can keep the interests of the middle-income taxpayer in mind," she said.

Glenn Yeaton, 1 Arcadia Road, said he will be another person to vote across party lines. He's for Mr. Silber, CLT, Rep. Tucker and Republican candidate James Rapport for U.S. Senate.

"CLT is the best thing to get state government under control," Mr. Yeaton said.

No matter who you vote for, democracy is the winner

Will it be Gov. John Silber or Gov. William Weld?

Will the CLT-sponsored tax-rollback ballot question prevail or fail?

State Rep. Gary M. Coon (R-Andover) or state Rep. Susan Tucker (D-Andover)?

A lot of powerful pundits claim to know, but one of the greatest things about the United States is that — unlike so many countries in the world — no one knows the final answers until every ordinary Joe and Jolene's vote has been counted next Tuesday, Nov. 6.

No matter where you stand on the oft-debated issues of this volatile election year, one thing that's undebatable is that here, in the United States of America, every citizen can make their own choice.

This past year has seen the inspiring spectacle of the countries of Eastern Europe throwing off their yoke of communism. While their lists of complaints were long, the peoples' leading demand has always been for the right to free elections.

This precious right, for which millions of common Czechs, Poles and Rumanians were willing to risk their lives, is something so common for Americans that it's actually taken for granted.

In the last election, only 56 percent of Andover's registered voters bothered to vote. In the 1988 presidential election, just over 50 percent of the nation's 182.6 million eligible voters took part.

Ironically, there's been a lot of attention paid recently to how a handful of citizens mistreat the American flag — a cloth symbol of our democracy — but hardly a whimper over how millions of Americans mistreat the right to vote — which is the actual fabric of our participatory democracy.

Sure, people have plenty of reasons not to vote: they're busy, they don't like any of the candidates, it's raining, what difference does one vote make anyway...

Try telling those to a Czech, a Pole or a Rumanian. You couldn't participate in your country's most fundamental exercise of democracy because you had to go shopping?

Flagwavers can be just as bad as flag-burners if they don't exercise their right — and responsibility — to vote.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 6, will as much a test of our belief in the American system as of who we want for governor.

So next Tuesday, get out there and vote!

The Andover chapter of the American Heart Association put together a fund-raising walk through town last Sunday. Despite a cold, damp day, there was a good turnout and over $1,200 was raised through pledges. ## Sailor in Persian Gulf thanks students for letters

Editor, Townsman:

I recently received a copy of the article you ran on 30 August 1990 concerning Andover's Persian Gulf contacts. Throughout this operation I have been very happy to see the outpouring of support nationwide and was especially pleased that my hometown learned of my participation in Operation Desert Shield.

For the soldiers and sailors who are deployed to the Middle East in support of national policy, the boost to morale provided by articles and letters such as those published in the Townsman is genuine, obvious and much appreciated.

I can only hope that if this becomes a more protracted operation with extended deployments and slow progress toward any real breakthroughs, that the support of the American people at home will not waiver or diminish.

Again, let me express my personal gratitude for the support and attention you have provided. Although my family and I now live in Hawaii and are permanent residents of California, we still consider Andover to be home.

AIDS awareness meeting at library was a success

Editor, Townsman:

It was an honor to participate in the AIDS awareness open meeting held at Memorial Hall Library last Thursday evening. With the support of Health Coordinator Brenda O'Brien of the public schools, students from the high school "Connection Group," under the direction of Paula Gray, introduced the audience to the subject of AIDS with an imaginative short skit. A large audience of many students, parents, various professionals and people directly affected by the disease participated in a lively discussion after the skit and the two videos that followed.

The evening was co-sponsored by the Andover Schools, VNA/Homecare, Red Cross and AIDS Action of Andover plus many individuals who supported the event in important ways. Thanks go to the members of the high school A.S.K. group who assisted with publicity, the Pike School students who made posters, the Andover Bookstore which provided books on AIDS and St. Augustine's parish for loaning for display the baby quilts they have been sewing for this growing population of infected people.

It is gratifying to sense a heightened awareness of the issue of AIDS here. The Townsman has been helpful in addressing the subject locally with sensitive personal stories and regular news items.

Slowly we are learning that we are all in this together. If anyone would like to help, please call AIDS Action of Andover at 470-2626.

AIDS Action of Andover is pleased to announce that the support group for anyone touched by AIDS, that started last winter is now meeting every week (previously meetings were every other week). The group meets Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. at Christ Church, 25 Central St.

LETTERS

Planning Board can vote fairly

Editor's note: The following statement was in response to the suggestion by some residents that members of the Planning Board could not fairly review a subdivision plan submitted by Kenneth Mahony, the former town manager who appointed the board members. The letter was read at the Oct. 9 hearing and was submitted as part of the official record.

The Planning Board has not yet voted on the subdivision plans.

By Bill Dalton

The matter of Mr. Mahony appearing before the Planning Board is a difficult one for all members of the Board since Mr. Mahony, in his former capacity as Town Manager, appointed us. Perhaps, it is even more difficult for me as I was a selectman while he was town manager and I probably know him better than any other member on the the Board.

The other day a well-meaning person asked me if I or the other members of the Planning Board thought we should withdraw. The fact that the question was even asked caused me to be concerned. However, if we as Planning Board members don't hear this matter, who will? There is no process that allows us to abdicate our responsibility to hear this matter. Withdrawal by us effectively denies to Mr. Mahony the rights granted to all other citizens in the town.

This issue brings into clear focus an ongoing problem that local board members face. Very often, we either personally know or "know about" an applicant. I have lived in Andover all my life and have been active in public matters for 25 years. If I were to disqualify myself every time someone known to me appeared before the board I would be close to useless.

The issue involving Mr. Mahony is a bit unique since he appointed us, but really raises the same question I've often had to ask myself: Can I, as a board member, render a fair, unbiased decision or will my decision be clouded by my knowledge of the applicant or any other parties of interest?

If the answer to that question is ever in doubt then I should disqualify myself. In the case of the matter at hand, the answer is that I feel that I can render a fair, unbiased decision.

Helping out dad on Halloween

By Melissa DeMeo

My father's a good parent. He gave me an appreciation for nature, a love of the language and an internal sense of timing motor oil changes.

I also inherited his sweet tooth, and, for us, Halloween has always been the bearer of good tidings, heralded with plastic light-up pumpkins and door decorations. He hoards bags and bags of candy for the occasion - even though the number of trick-or-treaters has dwindled down to two or three (due, in part, to the fact that he insists upon answering the door in a mask that would scare Stephen King).

Like most good parents, my father would always inspect my youthful Halloween bag in case of razor blades or arsenic. It was tradition, as much as dressing up in my mother's ingenious costume designs and parading around the neighborhood - even to the houses that passed out apples.

But as I grew older in years and wisdom, I noticed an odd trend developing: it was always the Reese's Peanut Butter Cups that were suspect. And as Halloween after Halloween came and went, the best of the candy - chocolate bars, mostly - started to fall under my father's suspicion.

"Dad," I'd say in 10-year-old disbelief. "Those are my Nut-Butter Fuzzy-Wuddies; they're hermetically sealed and distributed by Brinks Armored Truck."

"Well, Melis'," he'd say, "you never can be too sure. There are a lot of nuts in the world."

I'd wake up on All-Saints Day, trembling with the anticipation of days of furtive delights, and there would be my bag - sadly depleted, with only a roll of Smarties, a pack of BubbleYum and the annual apple from Mrs. Cook up the street. Where were my Snickers, my Hershey's bars, my Nestle Crunches - where, oh where were my Reese's Peanut Butter Cups? Confiscated, all.

It was useless to defend the honor of my chocolate. The wrapper was loose; did I want to end up like the kid in Kalamazoo, Mich., who was poisoned by a madman? No, and my candy was sacrificed to the cause of Kalamazoo and cities like it everywhere.

This year, there's a new confection out: PBMax. It's got the works: chocolate and peanut butter and a crunchy cookie thing, and my father is prepared.

"I bought a box of them .... Do you think that paper-boy kid - what's his name? Paul? - will show up?"

"Dad, Paul graduated from college last May."

"What about Cheryl?"

"I don't think so; she just got married."

Such a shame, all those PBMaxes going to waste. I think maybe I'll visit dad this weekend - just to commiserate.

Samaritan volunteers help out on the phone lines

Samaritan volunteers answer their phones nearly 100 times every day at the center in Lawrence. Often the caller is a person who is worried about a depressed family member or friend.

In response to the increasing number of these third-party calls, the Samaritans of Merrimack Valley offer a support group, Concerned Friends, a place to share feelings of frustration and helplessness and experiences that may help others cope with their daily relationships.

One of the group's leaders is Andover resident Judy Astbury.

Concerned Friends meets on the first Monday of each month from 7 to 9 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 57 Peters St., North Andover. Meetings are open to people of all ages who are concerned about friends or family members.

There is no attendance requirement and no fee. Samaritans are not affiliated with any religious group.

Ms. Astbury will be joined by Anne DeCesare of Atkinson, N.H., in leading the group. Both are Samaritan-trained facilitators. They emphasize that this group is not intended as a therapy session or a substitute for counseling.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Helping your medicine help you

By Mary Byrne

"Helping Your Medicine Help You" will be the subject of a discussion at the Senior Center on Thursday, Nov. 8, at 1 p.m. Tony Evangelista, a representative of CVS, will discuss how to take medication, over-the-counter drugs, arthritic drugs and steroids versus non-steroids. Please join us for what should be an interesting and helpful program.

The Sanborn School on Lovejoy Road will host their Harvest Festival on Thursday, Nov. 15. I attended last year and found it to be a delightful experience. The students and faculty invite you to join them. Let us know if you plan to attend so we can let the school know how many people to expect.

We have tickets left for the Elks Thanksgiving dinner on Sunday, Nov. 18. The Nov. 11 date is completely booked.

The make-up flu clinic will be held at the Senior Center Nov. 8 from 2 to 3:30 p.m.

Harold Reinstein, a speaker on Elder Advocacy for the Community Services unit of the Executive Office of Elder Affairs, will be at the Senior Center Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 1 p.m. His slide-talk, "So You Think You're Powerless" is designed to convince the senior population that they have great potential political clout and how to use this power effectively.

There will be no classes on Thursday, Nov. 1, at the Senior Center due to the Elder Advocates meeting. However, lunch will be served.

The Parkinson's Support Group will meet Monday, Nov. 5, at 1 p.m.

There will be no classes or lunches on Election Day, Nov. 6. The Senior Center is being used as a poll location for Precincts 1, 2 and 8.

Nov. 12 we will be celebrating Veterans Day. The Senior Center will be closed on Monday, Nov. 12, in celebration of Veterans Day.

The Thanksgiving party will be held Thursday, Nov. 15, at the Senior Center. Chet Harnden will provide the music and a complete turkey dinner will be served. The ticket cost is $4.

If you need information on fuel assistance, call the Senior Center at 470-3830.

The Visiting Nurse Association offers free health clinics to the elderly in Andover

Visiting Nurse Association Home-Care of One Union St. offers free elderly health clinics throughout the Merrimack Valley. The clinics focus on preventive care and assist elders in maintaining good health through blood pressure checks, weight management and nutrition counseling. Clinics in Andover are held jointly with VNA HomeCare and the Andover Health Department.

November clinics include Monday, Nov. 19, Andover Commons, 1-3 p.m.; Monday, Nov. 26, Frye Circle, 1-3 p.m.

Call the health department at 470-3800, extension 255 to make an appointment.

Where do sneakers go?

Mud, alligators and sneakers that run by themselves will descend on Andover when singer/songwriter Rick Charette and the Bubblegum Band perform at West Middle School on Shawsheen Road. The group will appear in concert Saturday, Nov. 10, at 2 p.m.

Mr. Charette released his sixth album this year, "Chickens on Vacation," following his 1988 release, "Christmas Tree." The title song of "Chickens on Vacation," which takes listeners on a vacation adventure with some thrill-seeking fowls, is a follow-up to Mr. Charette's other fanciful songs, such as "I Love Mud" and "Where Do My Sneakers Go at Night?"

He was recently featured in an award-winning one-hour television broadcast called "An Evening with Rick Charette" in New England and has appeared with the Bubblegum Band in concerts such as Riverfest, a festival in Little Rock, Ark., and Imagination Parade, a live radio broadcast from New York City. He has performed throughout the United States and Canada. Mr. Charette's albums have been featured in Entertainment Weekly and Billboard magazine.

Mr. Charette, a Maine native, holds undergraduate degrees in English and music education from the University of Southern Maine. He has been singing children's songs in schools and concert halls for the last 15 years.

Mr. Charette's Andover performance is sponsored by the Pike School Parents Association. Tickets are $7 and may be purchased in advance at Pike's reception desk or by calling the school at 475-1197. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Piano students put on Halloween show

Piano students of Linda Shen in sixth grade and under gathered in her studio in Andover Sunday afternoon for a Halloween music party.

Mrs. Shen assigned every student one piano piece related to Halloween with titles like "Tip Toe through the Haunted House," "Midnight Creeper" and "Happy Witch."

Students put on costumes during the party, which was part of the music workshop regularly held by Mrs. Shen.

The students who participated were Laura Perkin, Beth Lynch, Alicia Wagner, Ted Hu, Nina Conn, Susan Meeker, Ashley Hargadon, Elizabeth Davis, Kathy Kannam, Sharron Shue, Joan Huang, David Desruisseau, Timmy Huang, Li-chun Yeh, Meredith Affleck, Elizabeth Bigelow, Judy Huang, Mark O'Brien, Sara Hemeon, Caroline Yao, Elizabeth Perrors, Roger Yeh, Nikki Harrer, Daniel Shue, Julia Conn, Kim Davidson and Andrew Jacobs.

Halloween can change people in strange ways. Above, a brother and sister take on two very different personas. Megan and Jonathan Gardner, children of George and Sue Gardner, settle some sibling rivalries at the Department of Community Services' Spooktacular in Recreation Park Thursday. At right, the Andover High cheerleading squad was on hand to help manage the little monsters at the Spooktacular.

Phillips Academy musicians in chamber concert

The music department at Phillips Academy will present a free concert of chamber music featuring works of African-American composers plus two traditional works of Brahms and Beethoven on Sunday, Nov. 4, at 3 p.m. in the Timken Room at Graves Hall on the Phillips campus.

The program will include "Trio for clarinet, cello and piano" Opus 11 by Beethoven; "Mother and Child for cello and piano" by William Grant Still; "Echoes for clarinet and tape" by Olly Wilson; "Prelude and Caprice for piano" by George Walker; and "Trio for clarinet, cello and piano," Opus 114, by Johannes Brahms.

This concert is funded in part by Videmus, a Cambridge-based chamber music organization whose purpose is to promote music by minority and women composers.

Since its incorporation in 1986,

Businesses celebrate the season

The Andover Center Association celebrated Halloween in style last weekend with weather that complemented the fun. With treats and refreshments in participating stores and costumed merchants, Main Street was full of little and big trick-or-treaters.

All week long people tried to guess the weight of the great pumpkin at Old Town Hall with guesses ranging from 25 to 500 pounds and the constant question of "Is it real?" The lucky winner was Ellen Curtis of Andover. She won a $100 U.S. savings bond from Warren Five Cents Savings Bank and the pumpkin, courtesy of the Andover Center Association. And yes, it is real - all 2,790 ounces of it.

Youngsters delighted in face-painting and balloon animals at Old Town Hall on Saturday. The weekend culminated in a costume contest for 1- to 12-year-olds. Judges from Andover banks had a tough time judging the imaginative, funny and beautiful costumes. Five stores donated prizes for the contest.

The highlight of the weekend was the shopping spree raffle. Gift certificates, donations and gifts totaling more than $1,000 were donated by Andover businesses.

The winners in this Halloween har-

ing, Sherry Thompson of Methuen and Helen Roberts of North Andover.

John Perry plays football for UNH

By Rick Harrison

Sophomore wide receiver John Perry had the second finest afternoon of his collegiate football career last Saturday, but the former Andover High three-sport standout couldn't prevent his University of New Hampshire football team from losing for the first time this fall.

Perry hauled down 11 passes, good for more than 100 yards and a touchdown, as UNH dropped a 41-24 decision to Yankee Conference rival Boston University.

The setback left the Wildcats at 6-1-1 overall this year, including 4-1-0 in the league.

Perry, now 5'10", 180 pounds and wearing jersey No. 11, set a school record and was named Yankee Conference Rookie-of-the-Week last year when he caught 14 passes for 144 yards in a 21-7 victory over the Richmond Spiders.

As a freshman last fall, Perry was third for the 7-3-0 'Cats in both receptions and scoring.

He caught 36 passes for 519 yards (14.4 average) and five touchdowns (30 points).

His longest gain was 75 yards, and the touchdowns came in a 27-17 victory over Delaware (17 and eight-yarders), a 17-10 decision over Colgate (25-yarder), a 25-0 blitz of Rhode Island (12-yarder) and a 38-24 loss to UMass. (the 75-yarder).

Perry also returned four punts as a freshman, and was the leading UNH kickoff return man with a 31.4 average including a 53-yarder.

UNH last season lost its first two, won seven straight including a 38-35 conquest of BU, and then dropped its finale to the University of Massachusetts. This year Perry has caught more than 40 passes for over 500 yards, the longest a 71-yarder.

He has scored twice and is averaging close to 19 yards per kickoff return and four yards per punt return.

Perry and the Wildcats are at Rhode Island this Saturday afternoon, and wrap up the regular season with home Yankee Conference contests the following two Saturdays against Villanova and UMass.

Collins tried to be merciful AHS football team stomps over Lawrence High, 47-0

By Rick Harrison

Six different players scored touchdowns, including underclassmen Colin Arsenault and Jim Landry who ripped off electrifying back-to-back kickoff and punt returns, as the Andover High football team made it four straight by thundering past winless Lawrence High 47-0 last weekend at Veterans Memorial Stadium.

It was the latest in a series of ugly losses for the perpetually overmatched Lancers, who started seven sophomores and were further hampered by the absence of top offensive threat Joey Bonilla (ankle injury).

Andover Coach Dick Collins did his best to be merciful, yanking his first string in the second half and using more than 60 players in the game.

Eleven different running backs carried the ball, three quarterbacks threw only nine passes, and because of the spectacular run-backs the Golden Warriors only had 18 snaps from center in the third and fourth quarters.

While it was still a competitive contest, Dave Blank gained 71 yards in nine rushes and scored his eighth touchdown on a 10-yard burst.

Matt Perry and Jeff Hurley both threw a touchdown pass to wide receiver Brett Hammond, his seventh and eighth TD receptions of the season.

Perry's scoring strike was his seventh, Hurley's his first, and Hammond caught four passes for 49 yards to hike his season totals to 41 catches for 549 yards.

Hammond also booted his 12th, 13th, 14th and 15th conversions of the campaign, boosting his team-high point total to 63.

Blank's 71 yards gave him 608 altogether, and he also boasts 48 points.

Perry was 2-for-3 passing for 24 yards before relinquishing the position to Hurley, who went 3-for-6 for 45 yards.

Perry also scrambled once for a 34 yard gain, and defensively contributed the first of two Golden Warrior pass interceptions.

Junior Jason McCue was the third Andover signal-caller, showing some flash and potential with 43 yards rushing in four carries including a four-yard third period touchdown run.

Lighting a fire

Sophomore Arsenault took the second-half kickoff, squeezed through an opening straight up the middle, and won the subsequent 70-yard footrace to complete an 81-yard touchdown sprint.

Less than two minutes later junior Jim Landry cradled Eric Lemay's best punt of the afternoon at the right hash mark on the Andover 49 yard line, ran the width of the field to his left and turned the corner to daylight.

Once he made the turn upfield Landry was home free, being tackled just as he reached the end zone to complete a 51-yard punt return for six points.

The final touchdown was a 23-yard run by

Dyer was Andover's second leading ground gainer with 47 yards in six carries, junior Jason Hastings ran hard for 24 yards in four totes, and junior Dan Feeley picked up 16 yards in two rushes.

Also carrying the ball were sophomores Rod Lumley (2-7) and Mark Maesano (2-6).

senior Ron Park (1-4), Andy Carleton on a pair of end-arounds and Hurley.

Carleton caught one pass for 19 yards, making a nice run after grabbing the short toss.

Andover drove 42 yards in eight plays on its first possession, a 14-yard Perry to Hammond pass setting up Blank's 10-yard run at the 6:07 mark.

On its second series AHS moved 44 yards in two plays, Perry circling the left side for 34 yards and then passing to Hammond for the touchdown.

The pass was originally intended for another receiver in the end zone, but the ball was tipped 10 feet in the air to Hammond who was standing at the five. He made an acrobatic one-handed grab and stepped across to complete the circus play.

The Warriors' third possession included three Blank runs for 29 yards, but an apparent 41-yard scoring pass from Hurley to Hammond was wiped out by a clipping penalty at the Lawrence 19.

Two plays later sophomore Steve Shepard punted the ball away.

Domination continues

Perry's interception late in the half set up the third TD, a five-yard pass from Hurley to Hammond to cap a six-play, 55-yard trek that included a 15-yard Feeley run, the 19-yard pass to Carleton and two Blank carries for 16 yards.

Arsenault and Landry quickly boosted the

Senior players to be recognized Friday

The Andover Football Parents Organization will recognize the captains, senior players, senior cheerleaders and managers at the Methuen game at Lovely Field Friday, Nov. 2. Parents of the aforementioned should be on the 50-yard line at 6:30 p.m. to participate.

The Andover Junior Football players will be recognized at half-time. Team members of the Dolphins, Colts, Raiders and Redskins should wear game shirts and be at the goal post nearest the scoreboard just before the half.

Field hockey concludes winning season

By Rick Harrison

Two goals by senior midfielder and co-captain Jenn Recesso sparked Andover High to a 3-0 Merrimack Valley Conference field hockey victory over Dracut last Monday, bringing to a reluctant close the finest season that sport has enjoyed at AHS in a long, long time.

The triumph left the Lady Warriors at 8-6-2 in league play and 8-6-3 overall, their first winning season in many years.

The only downer was that AHS missed qualifying for the Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament by one slim point.

The 1990 season was scheduled to conclude with a non-league game against North Andover Tuesday, and several Andover girls are also eligible to participate in the annual MVC All-Star Game.

Adding one goal and one assist in the whitewash of Dracut was junior attacker Grace Perry, while senior attack Kathy Kim collected two assists.

Goaltender Julie DiLiegro was elevated from the junior varsity team for the second time this season, and she was credited with the shutout.

She was not as busy as No. 1 netminder Melissa McCarty had score to 34-0 at the start of the third, and the touchdown runs by McCue and Dyer polished off a pair of 60-yard second-half drives.

Lawrence moved the ball well on several occasions, mostly behind the running of sophomore Dennis Faulker (game-high 83 yards on 19 carries).

But the Lancers' deepest penetration was the AHS 27, and three times they fumbled the ball away with recoveries by Garrett Ferris, Dan Feeley and Todd Allard.

Frontliners playing well defensively in brief stints were Ryan Kelly, Chris Davis, Allard, Marinaro, Blank, Beal, Hurley, Perry, Greenstein and Hammond.

Andover finished with statistical edges in first downs (17-10), yards rushing (242-115), yards passing (69-46), total yardage from scrimmage (311-161) and scrimmage plays (48-46).

Including return yardage the Golden Warriors piled up 443 yards.

Andover improved to 5-2-0 overall with the victory, but missed out on a share of first place when Tewksbury wiped out an early 12-0 deficit to defeat Chelmsford 28-12. AHS remains tied for second place with Haverhill and Central Catholic, one game behind Tewksbury.

Methuen tomorrow

Andover is now home the rest of the way. Tomorrow night the Golden Warriors host Methuen at Lovely Field (7 p.m. kickoff). The Rangers are struggling at 1-4-1.

Andover is then idle until Nov. 17, when it entertains North Andover for a 10 a.m. contest.

The Thanksgiving Day finale against Central Catholic will be at Andover this year, Nov. 22 at 10 a.m.

been against Lawrence the previous week, however, making a season-high 17 saves against the Lancers.

All-Stars

Jenn Recesso and Kathy Kim were designated MVC All-Conference choices in balloting by league coaches last week.

Earning Large School All-Star honors were junior midfielder Holly Clark, junior defender Abby Dalton and Grace Perry.

These five girls will play in the All-Star Game, washed out last Sunday night and rescheduled for this Sunday night at 7 p.m. under the lights at Chelmsford High.

Andover skipper Sandy Lunt will be one of the coaches in the 'Star Game.

In other major individual awards announced last week, Judy O'Connell of Wilmington was named League MVP and Tewksbury's Leanne Stewart edged Lunt for "Coach-of-the-Year" laurels.

Jenn Recesso continued to lead the team in both goals (9) and total points (12) heading into the North Andover finale.

The Andover junior varsity field hockey team improved to a perfect 17-0-0 following its 2-0 conquest of Dracut.

Soccer teams start play-offs

By Rick Harrison

Two Andover High boys and five girls' soccer players earned 1990 All-Conference honors, several more competed in last Sunday's Merrimack Valley Conference All-Star doubleheader at Lovely Field, and both Warrior squads opened play in the Eastern Mass. Tournament yesterday.

Tournament

The Andover boys, second in the MVC Large School Division and 10-4-2 overall, were seeded seventh in Division 1 North as they hosted 10th seeded Somerville High (9-4-5) yesterday afternoon at Lovely Field.

If Coach Dave Amundsen's club won it advances to the quarterfinal round, where it has the unenviable task of playing undefeated No. 2 seed Lexington High at Lexington tomorrow (2:30 p.m.). The Minutemen, Middlesex League champions, will carry a 14-0-4 overall record against whatever team they face tomorrow.

The girls, five-time reigning MVC champs with a 14-2-2 overall record, were seeded fourth in Division 1 North. They completed

Two AHS golfers advance to state finals

By Rick Harrison

Sean Darwin and Jim Ofria, continuing their excellent late-season play, advanced to the MIAA State Individual Golf Championship Finals by placing among the top 10 in last Monday's windswept North East Area Qualifying Round at the Beverly Golf and Tennis Club.

Senior No. 1 Darwin and junior No. 2 Ofria both shot 80 to tie for fifth place in the field of 92 golfers from 31 high schools.

Their performance, under adverse weather conditions, moves them to the State Individual Finals to be played next June at International in Bolton.

Merrimack Valley Conference golfers owned the qualifying round, grabbing eight of the 10 available spots by shooting at or below the cutoff score of 82.

Gary Walsh of Tewksbury was the medalist with a 77, which included a superb 36 on the front side, and Dave Carlson of Chelmsford shot 78. Bill Drohen of Haverhill and Jim Doherty of Methuen had 79, Darwin and Co-Capt. Ofria 80, MVC Individual champion Marc Spencer of Haverhill 81 at Derek Ladd of Methuen 82.

In other links activity last week, Darwin tied for fifth place in the annual Merrimack Valley Conference Individual Championship held in cold, rainy, raw weather at Trull Brook in Tewksbury.

Darwin carded a 76 to finish five strokes behind Haverhill's Marc Spencer, who won the title with a one-under 71.

Darwin All-Conference

League officials announced their All-Star team last week.

Darwin, who finished the season with an 8-4-1 record in head-to-head matches, was one of eight All-Conference selections.

Ofria and junior No. 3 man Matt Harris, meanwhile, were designated as Large School All-Stars.

The final item on the Andover golf agenda this fall is today's MIAA State Team Qualifying Round at Putterham Meadows in Brookline.

The top two or three teams will move to the State Team Finals, also next June, and the Golden Warriors made the qualifying round by virtue of a strong second-place finish to Haverhill during the MVC regular season (10-4-1 record).

The format today is 18 holes medal play, with six golfers participating but only the four low scores figuring in the overall team total.

Lady Warriors overcome early defeats

By Rick Harrison

Five games into the season the Andover High girls' varsity soccer team was 3-2, with a 1-0 defeat to North Andover in that fifth game giving the Lady Warriors as many losses as they suffered all last year when they finished 18-2-1.

If there were any self doubts at that point they disappeared quickly, however, as AHS began picking up momentum that has fueled a current 13-game undefeated streak (11-0-2).

Along the way Coach Dick Loschi's team caught and passed Billerica en route to its fifth straight Merrimack Valley Conference championship, beating the Indians 4-0 in their rematch and finishing 9-1-2 in the league for a two-point edge over BMHS (8-2-2).

Andover also went 5-1-0 against excellent non-league competition that included Foxboro, Peabody, Beverly, Bridgewater-Raynham, North Andover and Concord-Carlisle.

Last week AHS concluded regular season play with a 4-1 come-from-behind victory over Wilmington, and a 1-1 tie against a stubborn Tewksbury crew that also battled AHS to a scoreless deadlock Sept. 29.

It left the Lady Warriors 14-2-2 overall heading into the Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament this week.

"This team came together very well after we graduated so many people from last year (nine starters, 15 players)," said Loschi. "There were a lot of skeptics out there that felt we couldn't do it again."

"It's a team with no superstars, but anyone that complains about this season has a problem. It's a fantastic group of girls to work with, and one that saw its dedication to excellence rewarded," added Loschi.

Nicole Angelos was the top scorer through 18 regular-season contests, finishing among the MVC leaders with 12 goals, eight assists, 20 points. Close behind was Tri-Capt. Lisa Allen at 8-10-18, and others in double figures were Tri-Capt. Anne Murnane (7-8-15) and Hilary Recesso (10-3-13).

Andover, 4-1

Stubborn Wilmington (2-11-0), hammered 8-1 by Andover the first time around, grabbed a 1-0 first-half lead at Lovely Field and kept the Lady Warriors off the board for 66 minutes.

Finally, at 26:29 of the second half, sophomore Hilary Recesso tied it 1-1 with her 10th goal assisted by senior forward Lisa Allen.

Allen put Andover ahead with the eventual game-winner just 2:11 later, converting a Darlene Prochniak feed at 28:38.

Nicole Angelos added some insurance with four minutes to play in the game, Allen collecting her third point with an assist, and junior defender Amy Heseltine rammed home a corner kick with just two seconds to play (39:58).

"We came out and took it easier than we should have," admitted Loschi. "We totally dominated the game, but they capitalized on a break and scored when we got careless and fell asleep. Fortunately the girls kept pounding away, and once we scored the first goal

Andover-Tewksbury, 1-1

The teams traded early first-half goals, six minutes apart, and then struggled through 71 scoreless minutes at Lovely Field en route to their second tie.

"We played well, especially in the second half," said Loschi. "We were aggressive to the ball and had a number of good scoring chances."

"It was tough on the seniors not to win their final regular-season home game, but every senior played and did extremely well."

Mary-Ellen Brady put Tewksbury (7-3-2 league, 8-6-2 overall) ahead just 2:50 into the contest with Debbie Takach assisting.

The lead lasted less than six minutes, however, as Nicole Angelos pumped home her 12th goal and 20th point of the season.

The junior forward took a lead pass up the right wing from senior forward Amy Brocklesby, broke past a Tewksbury wing and defender, and fired her shot low inside the near post.

Neither team could dent the other's defense the rest of the way.

Andover finished with a 16-9 shooting edge, goalies Maura

Playing well were Lisa Allen, Darlene Prochniak and Amy Heseltine.

Andover JVs

The Andover girls' junior varsity soccer team completed a perfect 15-0-0 season with a 5-0 romp over Tewksbury.

Among those playing well for the undefeated, untied champions were Marcia Gemmell, Amy Cassidy, Heather Norton, Becky Levine, Beth Everett, Kirsten Nowell and Kate Hansberry.

Tom Flannery Scholarship benefit to be held Nov. 11

There will be a Tom Flannery Girls' Soccer Memorial Scholarship benefit Sunday, Nov. 11, from 2 to 7 p.m. at the Lawrence Elks Club on Andover Street in Lawrence.

The benefit will feature entertainment by the Cast Connection. The $25 per person cost includes hors d'oeuvres, sandwiches and a cash bar.

The Tom Flannery Girls' Soccer Memorial Scholarship was established this year in honor of Tom who passed away suddenly in January at the age of 30. A 1978 graduate of Andover High School, Tom was a member of the boys' soccer team and responsible for establishing the girls' soccer team.

Tom is remembered as someone who gave 110 percent effort and consistently put the team's success ahead of his own. He typified what is commonly referred to as the seventh player.

In memory of his dedication, the Flannery family awards a scholarship to the Andover High girl soccer player who best exemplifies Tom's characteristics and spirit.

All proceeds from this benefit will go into the Tom Flannery Memorial Scholarship fund.

For more information, call 794-4978.

Raytheon's running team finishes first

Raytheon Company's men's running team finished first in the 1990 Manufacturers Hanover Corporate International Challenge Championship.

In winning the title, the Raytheon team topped more than 5,700 companies in the United States and abroad that took part this year in Manufacturers Hanover Corporate Challenge races.

Only 16 men's teams, winners of regional meets in major U.S. and European cities, qualified for the international championship, a 3.5 mile race along Park Avenue in New York City on Oct. 6.

Raytheon's win marked the first time an American company has captured the international championship since 1985.

The team's total combined time for the championship was 87:43. 3M Company, the regional winner from Chicago, finished second in 88:53. British Gas of London finished third in 88:56.

Team members and their individual race times were: John Clopeck of Andover, an employee at Raytheon's Missile Systems Laboratories in Tewksbury, 17:02; and Andy Kinney of Sudbury, an employee at the company's Advance Device Center in Andover, 18:04.

Some 1,000 Raytheon employees are members of the company's running club, started in 1984 to promote fitness and offer the opportunity to compete against other companies.

AHS ski team sponsors record hop, Nov. 9

The Andover High School Ski Team Boosters will sponsor an adult record hop at the Sheraton Inn and Conference Center in Andover Friday, Nov. 9, from 8 a.m. to noon. Music of the 1950s, '60s and '70s will be played.

Parents, friends and neighbors of ski team members are welcome to attend the fund-raiser.

Tickets are $30 per couple.

Andover resident helps GDA football team to victory

The Governor Dummer Academy football team toppled unbeaten Brooks School Saturday 23-13 to retain the Governors' 10-game undefeated standing in the Independent School League.

Governor Dummer senior quarterback Bill Batchelder of Andover passed for 152 yards to lead the Governors to their victory at Brooks on Saturday.

The Brooks team took the opening kick-off and ran it back for a 97-yard touchdown, following up with an extra point, for an immediate 7-0 lead. Within five plays, however, the Governors retaliated with a 64-yard drive and a two-yard Batchelder touchdown pass to senior Andy Mack of Byfield. The Governors were unable to make the two-point conversion.

Batchelder hit Mack with a 13-yard pass, followed by a two-point conversion pass to senior Andy Tanton of Silver Spring, MD, and the Governors took the lead 14-6. Brooks responded with a 75-yard drive and scored, but missed the extra point, to come within a point of tying the game.

Batchelder also scored on a 23-yard field goal in the third quarter and a two yard run with 1:45 remaining in the game.

Two Andover women help out Governor Dummer soccer team

The Governor Dummer Academy women's soccer team scored a 4-1 victory over Rivers Wednesday on the Rivers' home field.

GDA junior Tara Ryan, of Andover, scored three goals.

GDA senior goalie Catherine Burgess, of Andover, saved 20

Rivers shots on the goal.

According to GDA coach Susan Perry, Burgess is being scouted by a few college recruiters for her soccer ability.

In all, the Governors made 38 shots on the Rivers' goal.

Road race and walkathon to benefit American Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society will hold a 10 K. road race, The Race Against Cancer, and 6.2-mile walkathon Sunday, Nov. 11, through the streets of Andover.

The walkathon begins at noon and the race begins at 1 p.m. Both begin and finish at Phillips Academy.

T-Shirts will be given to the first 200 pre-entrants. Awards go to the top three finishers in each division. The Pauline Collins Memorial Award will go to the first Andover resident to finish. Merchandise prizes go to the top male and female finishers.

Entries, at $8 pre-race and $10 post registration (closes at 12:30 on race day), should be sent to Race Against Cancer, c/o Terry Fiamma, 19 Golf Ave., Methuen, 01844. Every fee will be waived for entrants obtaining $25 or more in pledges. Runners obtaining pledges can pick up their number at the pre-registration table the day of the race, but should send an application form with the waiver checked.

Refreshments will be served after the race and there will be entertainment after the race, also.

Registration for YMCA Youth Basketball League being held

The Merrimack Valley YMCA, Lawrence Branch, announces that registration for its 1990-91 Youth Basketball League runs through Saturday, Nov. 10, at the YMCA, 40 Lawrence St., Lawrence.

The league is open to boys and girls ages 6 to 14. Practice is held one night a week with games played on Saturday mornings. All players play at least one-half of every game.

Many special events take place during the season including parent/child games and a celebration banquet to conclude the season. All players receive a team shirt, player manual and trophy.

Last year more than 175 children on 24 teams participated. Local businesses sponsor each of the teams. Family members volunteer as coaches, timers, scorers, referees and photographers.

An open house will be held at the YMCA for anyone wanting to learn more about the program on Thursday, Nov. 1, at 7 p.m. Cost of the program is $19 plus a YMCA Youth Membership. For more information, contact Jay Herson at the Y.

Heartquist runs on cross country team

Erica Heartquist of Andover was a member of the women's varsity cross country team at Eastern Nazarene College.

The 1990 graduate of Andover High School is the daughter of Barbara and Eric Heartquist.

"Erica ran well this season," coach Carl Burgess said. "Fortunately for us, she is only a freshman."

Eastern Nazarene College is a four-year, Christian, liberal arts college in Quincy.

Doyle competes with crew team

Christine Doyle, daughter of Ron and Regina Doyle of 10 Apache Ave., and a freshman at Holy Cross College, competed in the Head of the Connecticut Regatta in Middletown, Conn., Oct. 7 as a member of the Holy Cross women's crew team.

Miss Doyle rowed in the women's novice eight category as bow position. The course was 3.5 miles long and the Holy Cross A entry finished first in a field of 12 entries. The novice crusaders beat such teams as URI, Coast Guard and Wesleyan with a time of 25:11:43, the best finish for novice women's crew in the history of the Holy Cross program. Miss Doyle also rowed as third position in the Varsity B entry. A history major, she is a 1990 graduate of AHS, and a former member of the Andover high girls' track team.

Octavia Hollander

Hollander plays soccer at Lawrence Academy

Octavia Hollander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hollander of Andover, is a member of the girls' varsity soccer team at Lawrence Academy, a private coeducational college preparatory high school in Groton.

Octavia, a sophomore, is playing midfielder for the squad which has been enjoying a solid season in the highly competitive Independent School League.

Dawley and Jones lift AHS soccer team over Lions, 2-1

By Rick Harrison

Senior midfielder and co-captain Rob Dawley and junior defender Brian Jones picked a perfect time to score their first goals of the season for the Andover High boys' varsity soccer team.

Both connected in the second half of the regular season finale against two-time reigning Merrimack Valley Conference Large School champion Chelmsford, lifting the Golden Warriors to a satisfying 2-1 decision over the Lions under the lights at Lovely Field.

The triumph enabled Coach Dave Amundsen's squad to complete the regular-season riding a three-game win streak.

Andover was 10-2-2 for second place in the MVC, just one point behind Chelmsford (11-2-1), and 10-4-2 overall.

After a scoreless first half, Rob Dawley put the Golden Warriors ahead during the opening minute of the second half.

Two minutes later, however, Chelmsford scoring ace Andy Lynch took a 40-yard shot that bounced high over the goalie and rolled into the AHS cage.

Jones produced the unassisted game-winner at the 32-minute mark, eight minutes from the finish, when his direct kick from 30 yards out sailed over the outstretched hands of Lions' goalie Tom Killmon and caught the netting just under the crossbar.

AHS senior goaltender Matt

Doyle, who suffered a concussion during the game and was taken to the hospital, made eight saves during his stint.

Senior Kevin Lewis came on in relief and stopped three Chelmsford shots to preserve the win.

Killmon made 10 saves for Chelmsford (12-2-3 overall).

"Chelmsford has a very potent offense, but we did an excellent job covering their top scorers," said Amundsen.

Henry, the Warriors top scorer with 12 goals and 21 total points, covered the Lions' stopper and sweeper. "Mike's an excellent two-way player who'll do anything necessary to help the team," said Amundsen.

Junior forward Chris Zappala and senior forward Steve Sintros helped keep the pressure on Killmon.

"They created a lot of opportunities and made him (Killmon) work," offered Amundsen.

Andover opens play in the Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament this week, the Warriors 12th post-season appearance in the last 15 years.

Andover JVs

The Andover boys' junior varsity soccer team finished with the best record in the Merrimack Valley Conference, edging Chelmsford 1-0 last week to go undefeated in league play and close at 13-1-2 overall (only loss to Concord-Carlisle).

Drew Leinson netted the only goal against Chelmsford in the first minute of play, assist to center-halfback Kevin Nusky.

Sharing the team's 12th shutout were goalies Jeff Breazeale, Tim Plankey and Matt Reghitto.

Nusky finished as the team's top scorer with seven goals, seven assists, 14 points. Rick Guenther was the top goalscorer with nine, closing at 9-1-10.

Five junior varsity players have been elevated to the varsity for the Eastern Mass. Tournament. They are keepers Reghitto and Plankey, sweeper Mike O'Sullivan, stopper Tim Maracle and Nusky.

yesterday's twinbill with a 7 o'clock arclight game against 13th seed Woburn (10-5-1).

All-stars

The Andover girls dominated the All-Conference team once again, as anticipated, with junior defender Amy Heseltine, senior goalkeeper Maura Everett, sophomore defender Lindsay Sweeney, senior midfielder Jen Butt and senior forward Anne Murnane all selected for top honors.

Additionally selected as All-Stars and playing in the 'Star Game game were senior Lisa Allen, junior scoring

Brad Cronin was also picked to play in the All-Star Game.

Coaches-of-the-Year were Tom Severe of the Billerica

Andy Lynch of Chelmsford was chosen Boys' Player of the Year, while John Lynch of Wilmington was named Small School Division Player-of-the-Year.

All-star games

The Sweepers and Strikers struggled to a 1-1 tie in the girls' All-Star Game.

ACBL continues registration

The Andover Church Basketball League is continuing registration for the upcoming season.

Prospective players have until Sunday, Nov. 4 to sign up for league play.

Registration forms are available from coordinators at Ballardvale United, Faith Lutheran, Free Christian, St. Augustine's and St. Robert's or may be obtained at the Andover Hockey Shop and Red Harris Sporting Goods.

The league has four divisions: Junior (8-9 years), Intermediate Boys (10-11 years), Intermediate Girls (10-13 years) and Senior Boys (12-13 years).

League age as of Sept. 1, 1990.

Frosh football posts win

By Rick Harrison

Paul Allard and Toby Guzowski scored two touchdowns apiece, while the defense held Lawrence to no first downs and minus yardage for the game, as the undefeated Andover freshman football team rocked the Lancers 41-0 at the Doherty Middle School field.

The triumph boosted Andover to 6-0 this fall, and the defending Merrimack Valley Conference frosh champs have now won 19 straight over portions of three seasons.

The shutout was the second straight and third overall this year for Andover, which has outscored six foes 190-36. Andover has piled up 90 first-quarter points and 63 second-quarter points, while the first defensive unit has yielded just one touchdown all season (to Haverhill).

Matt Wolcott, who was silent in this game, continues to lead Andover in scoring (48 points) and rushing (559 yards, 30 carries).

Guzowski is second in the scoring race with 42 points, while Allard has 37 points and 482 yards rushing in 34 carries. Allard also set a freshman team record by kicking three successful conversions against Lawrence.

Quarterback Jeff Brammer continues to impress with 26-for-41 overall, 426 yards and five touchdowns. He was 4-for-5 for 91 yards and two TDs versus Lawrence.

All that stands between the young Warriors and another perfect record are victories in road games against Methuen (tomorrow, 3:30 p.m.) and Central Catholic (Nov. 16).

Allard romps

Paul Allard got things going with a 33-yard run to the Lawrence two, following the first of four Lancer fumbles in the opening minutes. He then crashed over for the touchdown, with Kurt Kozat rushing the points.

Toby Guzowski, who has scored two TDs in each of the last three games, made it 14-0 late in the opening period after another fumble recovery by defensive tackle Phil Smith.

Jeff Brammer went to the air and hit Guzowski with a 25-yard pass, but an option toss from Allard to Wolcott fell incomplete on the conversion.

The versatile Allard notched his fifth touchdown of the season midway through the second quarter, intercepting a pass from his linebacker slot and racing 38 yards to paydirt.

Allard then added the first of his three conversions.

Freshman coach Ken Pellerin holds weekly placekicking tryouts on Thursday to determine who will get the opportunity to kick in each game. Allard was the winner last week and he made the most of the chance.

"We don't even attempt many PAT's at this level," said Pellerin, "and I'm almost certain no freshman player has ever kicked three in the same game for us before."

The first half ended 28-0 when Brammer fired a 36-yard touchdown pass to Gene Doran, the same pair setting up the score with a 12-yard aerial completion.

Defense shines

Guzowski registered his seventh TD of the year in the third period, racing five yards after he had hooked up with Allard on a 55 yard screen pass.

Allard's third conversion boot made it 35-0.

Andover consumed most of the fourth quarter with a long drive, Kozat capping it with a three-yard run for his third touchdown.

Dan Trede's attempted extra point kick was blocked.

Andover had 123 yards rushing on 17 carries, Allard leading the way with 73 yards in six lugs (12.2 average).

Matt Ragonese ran four times for 16 yards, Guzowski twice for 13, Kozat three times for seven and Wolcott just once for six yards.

Guzowski complemented Brammer with 2-for-2 passing for 71 yards.

Allard had three receptions for 86 yards, giving him 197 all-purpose yards for the game, while Doran caught two passes for 48 yards and Guzowski one for 25 yards.

The stingy defense shone with four fumble recoveries, two interceptions and five quarterback sacks.

Greg Robinson and Allard had the pass thefts, the fumble recoveries went to Allard, linebacker Kozat, tackle Phil Smith and tackle Dave Godwin, and the QB sacks were recorded by Doug Lottatore, Dan Trede, Matt Wolcott and Smith.

Cross country teams unsuccessful in meets

By Rick Harrison

Despite solid efforts by sophomore prospects Heather Holmader and Matt Liberty, the Andover High girls' and boys' cross country teams had their hands full with Lowell last week as the visiting Red Raiders swept to victories in both dual meets.

On the girls' side, undefeated Lowell won its 18th consecutive meet and clinched at least a tie for its third straight Merrimack Valley Conference championship with a 20-39 triumph.

The Lowell boys, tied for second place in the MVC Large School Division, raced past the Golden Warriors by a similar 19-37 score.

Those results left the AHS girls at 3-4-0 league and 3-5-0 overall, while the boys slipped to 3-6-0 league and 3-7-0 overall.

Coach Leo Lafond's harriers also competed in the annual Northern Area Meet at Bradley-Palmer State Park in Peabody, both teams finishing a very respectable seventh in the field of 30 schools.

The regular MVC dual meet campaign concluded yesterday at home, with Andover expected to sweep to a pair of victories against Wilmington High.

Andover girls

The Lady Warriors placed two runners in the top five and four among the first 10 finishers, but it wasn't enough against strong Lowell (70-0).

Sophomore Heather Holmader, a two-time individual race winner this fall, took third behind the Raiders' tough 1-2 tandem of Jacki Cox and Lynn Tucker.

Holmader crossed in 16:58 for the 2.6 mile reservation course, while Cox clocked 16:33 and Tucker 16:52.

Ellen Sullivan was fifth (17:43), junior Jen Ashlock ninth (18:16) and junior Co-Capt. Heather McNemar 10th (18:22).

In the Northern Area Meet, AHS had 227 points to trail team champ Tewksbury (94), Haverhill (103), Masconomet Regional (108),

AHS marchers bring home season's first gold medal

The Andover High School Marching Band struck solid gold last Sunday Reading (85 or more is a gold medal.)

Not only did their performance earn them their first gold medal of the season, but it placed the musicians first in Division II and first overall for this competition, which involved 15 New England bands.

Of the four "bests" given in each division, Andover, Division II, was awarded best drum major (Maureen Mitchell), best percussion (Dave Proburg, Kerry Galvin, Suzanne Gemmell, Brian Imbro, Steve Neal, Kramer O'Neill and Gail Roberts) and high mellophone (Brian Imbro, Steve Neal, Kramer O'Neill and Gail Roberts) and high mellophone.

This was the first and only gold given out in the five NESBA-sanctioned contests held in the north region this season, Mr. Keroack added.

Other band results in Division II are Triton (84.2), named best band front, and Nashua (63).

Three out of four band competitions this season were held under sunny and cool. Just as divisions I and II finished their performances, the rain came down in earnest.

Relatives of marchers sitting among the Andover band parents on the bleachers kept a positive attitude about the competition - despite the threatening skies.

Band president and piccolo player Brenda Buschmann's grandparents, Robert and Peg Hichens of Lynnfield, having attended some of the competitions, described the band's new routine as "very original and exciting."

"Their leader must be good the way he leads the band," said a parent.

Electric bass guitarist Kramer O'Neill's brother, Kel Triton O'Neill, a sixth-grader at West Middle School, thought the band was "really awesome."

Andover will compete among nine bands in Division II this Sunday at 10 a.m. at the New England Scholastic Band Association finals at Foxboro Stadium. Tickets will be at the gate.

YOUTH SOCCER

By Nancy Risseuw
Under 18 Division
Hawks 4 - Woburn 2

Andover began the scoring on passes from Dan Small and Ron Hancock to Scott Nicholson, who shot to the far post and the ball broke through the goalie's legs. Woburn came back to tie and then leap ahead for a short time. Andover tied in the first half, with Scott Nicholson passing to Dan Small. From Small's cross shot, Jim Woodroffe booted in the tying goal. Taking advantage of opportunities, the Hawks took the lead in the second half. On a pass through from Scott Nicholson and Jim Woodroffe, Dan Small shot to the post. Goal number four came on a breakaway from Ron Hancock and Jim Woodroffe to Dan Small who again shot to the post. Great team effort was displayed by all.

BOW: Jim Stratton, Jesse Reinos, Matt Ely, Peter Volpe and Mike Mano.
Under 14 Division
Strikers 5 - Woburn 4

The Strikers began the scoring when, on a pass from Buffy Sonntag, Sara Marchessault booted in the ball. The Strikers struck again with a goal scored by Buffy Sonntag. The third goal in the first half came after a fine set up by Kati Jurdi, passed to Jen Griffin for the goal. The second half saw two more Andover goals. Buffy Sonntag booted in another one, unassisted and Lani Johnson netted one with an assist from Cathy Zappala.

BOW: Andrea Gatan zaro, Amy Baker and Tricia Har.

Strikers 2 - Wilmington 1

All the scoring was done in the first half of this aggressive game. Andover began with Buffy Sonntag netting the goal, helped by Sara Marchessault. Wilmington came back to tie the game, but not for long. The Strikers dealt the final blow, with Sara Marchessault booting the ball into the net, over the goalie's head.

BOW: Kristen Chaisson, Jessica Banos and Maria Paone.

Eagles 3 - Woburn 3

The Andover Eagles ended their season with a 3-3 tie against Woburn. The Eagles played a strong offense. Brian Tisbert put Andover ahead with goal number one, assisted by Shaun Rodriguez. The efforts of the Eagles to keep the ball in scoring position payed off when Tim Smith scored goal number two, assisted by Hugh Quattlebaum. The strong defense kept Woburn to just one goal in the first half. The second half was marked by strong offensive and defensive plays. A number of excellent shots on goal were thwarted by Woburn's goalie. On a corner kick from Brian Tisbert, Shaun Rodriguez scored another goal. Despite a number of spectacular saves by Zachary Smith, Woburn scored another goal. Woburn tied Andover in the last few minutes of the game.

BOW: Shaun Rodriguez, Ryan Games, and Hugh Quattlebaum.

Chargers 2 - Saugus 1

Early in the first half, Saugus took the lead. Terrific passing and a powerful kick resulted in Andover's first goal, scored by Vanessa Blank with help from Elizabeth Murphy. Repeated pressure by the Chargers' offense resulted in the second and well deserved goal by Vanessa Blank, assisted by Vanessa Scarbeau. Outstanding defensive effort contributed to this victory.

BOW: Elizabeth Salvia, Katie Aeder and Susan Cookson.

Sung II 8 - Salem 0

Andover outplayed Salem the entire game. Scoring goals were Michael Maguire (two), Jon Gernain (two), Andy Houston (two), Pat Russo (one), and Matt Small (one).

BOW: The entire team.

Sting II 2 - Peabody 0

An extremely well played game, with unassisted goals by Jon Adams and Matt Small.

BOW: Ryan Hadley, Jason Nicholson and Brian Kwon.

Under 12 Division
Awesome 1 - Salem 1

half. Scott Peterson scored off a nice Matt Rogers and Jim Anderson combination.

Two minutes later, Jim Anderson scored again. At eight minutes, Danvers scored off a flurry in the penalty box. James Butler finished the scoring late in the half with a blast near the post. The undefeated Lions hunt the championship against Beverly this Saturday at 10:30 at Lower Shaw-shien.

BOW: David Sullivan, Rob Busby and Drew Maletz.

Willows 2 - Oaks 0

In the first quarter several goal attempts by the Oaks were rejected by goalie Keri Lewis. The Willows scored in the second quarter on a goal by Courtney Barron, assisted by Jessica Pucella and in the third from Lynne Mazza, unassisted. Sara Callanen, the Oaks' goalie, did a fine job in the fourth quarter denying several goal attempts.

BOW: Erin Fitzpatrick, Jessica Purcell and Sarah Garick (Oaks); Beverly Grewal, Catherine Kaleel and Laura Pelletier (Willows).

Elms 2 - Palms 2

The Palms goal came on a goal by Tara Cataldo, assisted by Michelle Langone, and the other by Holly Ferris on a feed from Shaun Robb. The Elms responded in the fourth quarter with two goals, from Jackie Tommasino and Andrea Buonauriguo, to end the game in a 2-2 tie.

BOW: Sarah Lentz, Monica Turbett and Erin Smith (Palms); Ilana Gordon, Andrea Goldberg and Samantha Auliero (Elms).

Maples 3 - Cedars 1

Kim McKew struck first in the first quarter with a goal for the Cedars. The Maples scored two in the third from Christy Birrell, assisted by Brenna O'Connor, and Erin O'Brien, assisted by Jessica Smith. The Maples scored again in the fourth quarter on a Michele Yu to Vicki Costello goal combination.

BOW: Kaitlin Dargan, Katie Browne and Meghan Doyle (Cedars); Maples' BOWs were unavailable.

France 1 - Brazil 3

Brazil broke a first-half tie and went on to score two goals in the second half for the 3-1 win. Brazil's goals were scored by Scott Thompson (two) and Jason DerAnian with assists from Matt Redmond, Pete Maguire and Jason Monaco. Josh Hoenen scored France's only goal.

BOW: Kirk Larsen, Dan Barch and John Hensley (Brazil); Kris Courtney, Justin Fay and Cris Farr (France).

Hillary Kelly scored for the Discos halfway through the first period. Action was non-stop during the second and third scoreless periods.

The Hully Gulls evened the score with a goal by Leah Spies after taking a perfect centering pass in the fourth period. A few minutes later, Lisa Raueo of the Discos wound her way through the defense for an unassisted goal. Brittany Traynor added an insurance goal with about four minutes remaining in the game for the final 3-1 score.

BOW: Jessica Shoen, Michelle Linn, Catherine Filbin (Hully Gulls); Zoe Hastings, Abigail Dennehy, Jennifer Annese (Discos).

Cha Chas 4 - Twisters 2

Ali Munroe set the offensive momentum for the Cha Chas with a goal in the first quarter and Megan Munroe followed with another in the second. Courtney Famigletti kept the Twisters' defense scrambling all through the third quarter and scored a goal. Stobhan Daniels booted in the final Cha Chas' goal in the final quarter. The Twisters' Katieyn Sullivan scored two quick goals.

BOW: Susie Moffitt, Stacy Luti and Andrea Campbell (Twisters); Nadya Pinchus and Lauren Schellhaudt (Cha Chas).

Hokey Pokeys 2 - Jitterbugs 2

The Jitterbugs and Hokey Pokeys played an excellent game ending in a 2-2 tie. The first goal scored was a Caitlin Grasso's strong drive from Hillary Fitzpatrick through a confused Hokey Pokeys' defense. The Hokeys answered when the goalie lost control of the ball and Alexis Contos tapped it in the goal. Jitterbugs' Libby Strikerin booted one over the goalie's head on a pass from Katie McCain. Katieyn Nugent, assisted by Liz Yang, scored the tying goal in the final minutes of the game.

BOW: Lindsay Hartwell, Kristin Wilson and Megan Fraser (Jitterbugs); Cara Chiaravalle, Robin Kartunkel and Mary Cassidy (Hokey Pokeys).

Strolcs 3 - Mashed Potatoes 1

Anna Radococka, assisted by Jessica Fellis and Deanna Corey, scored the Mashed Potatoes' only goal. Lacey Eggert, assisted by Sarah Cote, Sarah Cote, assisted by Lacey Eggert, and Lacey Eggert, assisted by Courtney Sullivan accounted for the Strolcs' goals.

Tangoes 4 - Waltzes 2

Sarah Marden began the scoring for the Tangoes, with an assist from Lesley Ring, early in the first period. In the second period Katie Gruner of the Tangoes scored an unassisted goal, followed almost immediately by the Waltzes' Erica Tibbets feeding Meghan Hayes for a well placed score. Julie McClearn of the Tangoes opened the third period with a goal. Back-to-back goals in the fourth period by Lesley Ring of the Tangoes and Meghan Hayes of the Waltzes made the final score 4-2.

BOW: Kara Ahern, Margaret Adams and Rachel Greer (Tangoes); Taylor Traub, Jessica Bindman and Jacqueline Sawyer (Waltzes).

Kearins sets school scoring record with dive

By Rick Harrison

Junior Kasie Kearins set a new meter diving (201.05 points), junior Jill Ippolito qualified for the All-State Meet in the 50-yard freestyle (26.93), super swimmer Kristen Hubbell clocked a personal-best 57.45 in the 100-yard freestyle, and sophomore Amanda Schaake became the fifth AHS diver to qualify for the Sectional Championships.

Those were the major highlights in a very productive week for the Andover High girls' swim team, which wrapped up its Merrimack Valley Conference dual meet season by sweeping to victories over Lawrence (41-38) and Methuen (92-84).

Those results left first-year Coach Patty Fitzgerald's Lady Warriors with final records of 6-4-0 overall and 5-4-0 in the league.

Chelmsford won the MVC title once again last week, edging Lowell 99-87 in their showdown battle of the undefeated.

Championship meets

The Andover natators return to the water at the annual Merrimack Valley Conference Championship Meet today and tomorrow.

Lowell High hosts the diving and 500-yard freestyle competition today, while all other events will be contested tomorrow at Haverhill High.

The Sectionals are scheduled for next weekend, Nov. 9-10, at Regis College in Weston.

The All-State Meet will be held the following weekend, Nov. 16-17, at Northeastern University. AHS qualified to participate in the State Meet, senior Tri-Capt. Kristen Hubbell, junior Michelle McCarthy, Kasie Kearins and Jill Ippolito.

Multi-talented Ms. Hubbell is eligible for six events, although she must select two from among the 50 freestyle, 100 freestyle, 200 freestyle, 100 backstroke, 100 butterfly and 200 individual medley.

McCarthy qualified in the 100-yard breaststroke, Kearins in the one-meter diving, and Ippolito in the 50 freestyle despite the fact she's only been an event swimmer for four meets.

That quartet also qualified in the same events for the Sectional Meet, while other Lady Warriors in the Sectionals will be sophomore Chrissy DerAnanian (100 freestyle, 200 freestyle) and divers Amanda Schaake, sophomore Anne Milmoe and junior Sarah Faraci.

Jill Ippolito is the fifth diver in the Sectionals, and Michelle McCarthy also qualified for the Sectionals in the 500 freestyle.

Kasie Kearins became the first Andover diver ever to score 200 points, her personal-best school record 201.25 one of 12 first-place finishes in the victory over Methuen at the Greater-Lawrence Regional pool.

Kristen Hubbell was immense again, notching a double individual victory in the 100 free (57.45) and 200 free as well as swimming anchor leg relay events.

McCarthy also swam on both relays, while Jill Ippolito and Katie Lennon rounded out the 200 squad, Tri-Capt. Eliza Tilghman and Allyson Bates the 400 foursome.

Other winners were Chrissy DerAnanian (200 IM), Ippolito (50 free), sophomore Molly Grassis (100 fly), freshman Mindy Fox (100 breaststroke), Allyson Bates (100 back), Michelle McCarthy (500 free) and the 200 medley relay team of Kerrin Murphy, Ronit Shteyler, DerAnanian and Lennon.

Individual runners-up against the Rangers were junior Stephanie Givens (200 IM), diver Amanda Schaake (personal-best 165.10 points), junior Liz Smith (100 fly), junior Katie Lamanna (500 free) and Shteyler (100 breast).

The 200 medley relay crew of Allyson Bates, Mindy Fox, Molly Grassis and junior Jen Merenda also placed second.

Rounding out the scorers in fifth were junior diver Deldre DeAngelas, Merenda (100 fly) and Allyson Bates (50 free).

Andover, 41-38

The Lady Warriors earned 11 firsts and 10 seconds to spark the triumph over the Lancers at the Lawrence 'Y.'

There was no diving competition due to lack of proper facilities.

Individual victors were junior Amy Fantini (200 free), Katie Lamanna (200 IM), Jill Ippolito (50 free), Liz Smith (100 fly), Weslie Byers (100 free), Jen Merenda (500 free), Allyson Bates (100 backstroke) and Ronit Shteyler (100 breaststroke).

Also touching first were the 200 medley relay team (Hila Horovitz, Mindy Fox, Courtney Chalfin and Merenda), 200 free relay squad (Andrea Carpino, Jen Tupper, Julie Wilson and Alison Wolensky), and the 400 defending champ Lowell (118), Chelmsford (122) and North Andover (213).

Heather Holmender placed 23rd among the estimated 150 runners with a 20:17 time.

Ellen Sullivan was 33rd in 20:42, and other AHS runners were Jen Ashlock 56th in 21:39, Heather McNemar 61st in 21:54, sophomore Debbie Xifaras 64th in 22:05, junior Stephanie Carroll 74th in 22:46 and Kristie Barrow 111th in 25:10.

Andover boys

AHS remained tie for third place in the MVC Small School Division despite the loss to Lowell.

The youthful Warriors had four top 10 finishers, all underclassmen, but none could crack the top four as Raiders Matt

Hassett and Rick Cruz were co-winners in a side-by-side 13:46.

Sophomore Matt Liberty once again was Andover's leader, fifth overall in the 2.6 mile race.

In the Northern Area Meet, Andover compiled 259 points to trail champion Beverly (68), runnerup Lowell (89), Chelmsford (97), Lexington (151), Central Catholic (173) and Pentucket Regional (209).

Matt Liberty was a strong 19th in the 200-runner field, clocking 16:18, while other AHS scorers were Brian Twomey 34th in 16:36, Erik Dahlstrand 59th in 16:56, Jeremy Roux 72nd in 17:13, senior Phil Boness 75th in 17:17, Tri-Capt. Brian Smith 112th in 17:30 and sophomore Craig Kern 132nd in 18:13.

Volleyball team prepares for state tourney play

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High girls' varsity volleyball team, looking for at least a share of the Merrimack Valley Conference Large School title when it faced powerful Dracut in Tuesday night's regular-season finale, prepped for its third consecutive State Tournament appearance by winning three of four matches over the past week.

The Lady Warriors began the week disastrously, falling out of first place with a 2-1 loss to Haverhill. The Hillies prevailed 15-11, 5-15, 15-7 to snap Andover's five-match win streak.

But AHS recovered quickly, sweeping past Tewksbury (15-2, 15-4) and Wilmington (15-7, 15-5) by 2-0 scores and regaining a share of the top when Chelmsford bowed (2-1) to undefeated Dracut.

There was also a 2-0 blitz of non-league rival Bishop Fenwick of Peabody on Senior Appreciation Day last Monday, keeping the Warriors perfect (6-0) against Fenwick the last three years.

Both Andover, which has never won a league title in volleyball, and Chelmsford were tied at 12-5 entering last Tuesday evening's fourth annual "Volleyball Night" at Chelmsford.

The Lady Warriors were 14-5 overall, and free relay crew (Lamanna, freshman Mandy Wilson, Diana Rita and Horovitz).

Second place finishers were Rita (200 free), Mindy Fox (200 IM), Elise Pedersen (100 fly), Carpino (100 free), sophomore Megan Redding (500 free), Karen Murphy (100 back), Amy Redgate (100 breast).

Runners-up in the relay were the 200 medley team of Redding, Shteyler, Molly Grassis and Whitney Bates), the 200 free quartet of Diana Rita, Tara Patenaude, Erin Kaskey and junior Kim Heller, and the 400 free unit of Mindy Fox, Eliza Tilghman, Julie Wilson and Patenaude.

Earning thirds were sophomore Keren Rock (50 free), Kaskey (100 free), Whitney Bates (100 back) and Stephanie Givens (100 breast).

winners in eight of their last nine as well.

Coach Art Iworsley's crew was a decided underdog against unbeaten Small School champ Dracut (17-0), the Middies shooting for a perfect regular season record, while Chelmsford was a slight favorite against a Billerica team it lost to 2-0 the first time around. The Lions were favored because Billerica struggled down the homestretch and entered with a 9-9 overall record.

The meeting to seed the tourney qualifiers and announce the pairings was held last night, and State action was scheduled to start with the preliminary round either tonight or tomorrow.

Andover has battled to the Division 1 North semifinals each of the past two years before being eliminated by the eventual State champion in 1988 (Stoneham) and 1989 (Chelmsford).

"The (high school) gym won't be available to us next Monday and Tuesday, because of the election, but hopefully that won't affect us too much," noted Iworsley.

At best the Lady Warriors will be forced to practice elsewhere, and may lose a home court site in the early rounds of the tourney. Haverhill, 2-1

The Hillies, one of five tournament qualifiers from the MVC, finished one match out of first place in the Large School Division

Haverhill, a 2-0 victor in the initial confrontation Sept. 28, appeared in trouble after AHS squared the match with its 15-5 second-

Nicole Ricci plays soccer for University of Maine

The University of Maine women's soccer team has compiled a 4-9 record in its first season as a Division I program.

Former Andover High School athlete Nicole Ricci has been a standout goaltender for the Black Bears.

Ricci, a freshman, won the starting position in preseason workouts and has backboned the defense throughout the season.

Head coach Moira Buckley said, "Nicole is one of the best freshman goaltenders in Division I soccer today."

She has faced a tremendous number of shots this year and her talent really showed."

With two games remaining, Ricci has compiled a 2.56 goals-against average to go along with a .821 save percentage and has faced an average of 19 shots per game.

Nicole, the daugh-

game romp.

"I felt comfortable about us winning the third game," admitted Iworsley. "We'd had a good Sunday practice and the girls were confident after five straight wins. The second game went quickly. We did everything right. But it just didn't happen for us in the third game."

Playing well in the costly loss were three hitters, senior co-captain Ayanna Littrean, sophomore Kerry Hagerty and junior Lea Conserva.

Andover, 2-0

The Lady Warriors belted Tewksbury (2-15 record) 15-2, 15-4 for the victory that officially clinched the tournament berth.

"The girls knew we needed it to qualify," said Iworsley, "and it was a team effort with a lot of new kids getting to play in the second game."

Andover entered the match shorthanded, with senior co-captain Christina Chunias out sick and senior hitter Brianne Phillips sidelined with a sore arm.

is suffered a finger injury in pre-game warmups.

Plugging the gaps and playing well were junior hitter Stephanie Kupa, senior blocker Nancy Troy, Kerry Hagerty and setters Cara Conserva, Nicole Thompson and Meghan Mueller.

Andover, 2-0

The Lady Warriors were one of the few teams to achieve a pair of 2-0 whitewashes against Wilmington, whose final 5-13 record was deceiving.

"Once again we had an opportunity to play some reserves in the second game," said Iworsley. "Nancy Troy continued her outstanding hitting and blocking, leaving me no other choice but to try and use her more in the tournament."

Andover, 2-0

After presenting roses to his seven seniors on "Senior Appreciation Day," Coach Iworsley played the seven for the entire first game and saw them come away with a 15-12 victory over Fenwick (7-13 final record).

The seven seniors are co-captains Christina Chunias and Ayanna Littrean, Nicole Thompson, Peggy Dugal, Nancy Troy, Maureen Maginis and Brionne Phillips.

Dugal had an exceptional game, serving, chalking up seven consecutive points at one stretch.

In game two five underclassmen mixed in with the 12th graders, and the result was a resounding 15-3 romp to clinch the victory.

Personal jabs highlight candidates' debate

ter than my opponent," Ms. Castillo said.

Sen. McGovern pointed out, often raising her voice to match her opponent's, that Ms. Castillo is in the insurance business and asked her what she would do to keep the cost of insurance in check. Ms. Castillo said insurance rates are set by the insurance commissioner and that she, as an insurance agent, has no control over them. Less regulation and more competition would help bring down rates, Ms. Castillo said.

She blamed Sen. McGovern for doing nothing to stop the rise in crime and in the number of auto thefts in Lawrence.

Sen. McGovern corrected Ms. Castillo for several times referring to the state government as the senator's administration.

"She misunderstands the entire discussion. Had I been the governor, the administration would not be in the mess that it is in," Sen. McGovern said.

Reps tangle

Republican Gary Coon, candidate for state representative, also used the opportunity to continue to attack his opponent, Rep. Susan Tucker, D-Andover, for being part of the problem that created the current fiscal problems in the state.

"We can't afford to elect a representative who helped create this mess," Mr. Coon said.

Rep. Tucker defended her record, appearing at times frustrated with her opponent, then took the offensive against Mr. Coon, accusing him of misrepresenting his business, flip-flopping on the abortion issue and lacking the competence to do the job.

Rep. Tucker said Mr. Coon was painting himself as a businessman when his office is closed and telephone disconnected. She also said she knew people who gave money to Mr. Coon's campaign because of his anti-abortion stance, only to have him change his position.

"With me, what you see is what you get," Rep. Tucker said.

Mr. Coon denied the charges, and explained that he put his business on hold in order to concentrate on the campaign. He said he is personally against abortion but would support the "parameters" of the Roe vs. Wade, which gives a woman the right to choose in the first 24 weeks of a pregnancy.

Afterward, Mr. Coon said he thought the debate went well.

"Unlike my opponent, I didn't resort to name calling and personal attacks," Mr. Coon said.

Proposal to reduce Legislature

Ms. Castillo said she would support a proposal to reduce the number of state representatives from 160 to 80. Sen. McGovern was against the idea because she said Andover would lose its representative.

Rep. Tucker said reducing the number of representatives would mean larger districts and the remaining representatives would lose touch with their constituents.

"I would be opposed to that," Rep. Tucker said.

But Mr. Coon disagreed. "We need a turnover and some new blood in the system," Mr. Coon said.

Limiting terms

Rep. Tucker would support a limitation on terms, but was unsure on a specific number of years she would favor. She was against limiting representatives to six years.

"That would mean over a third of the house would be in a lame-duck position and we've seen what lame ducks can do," Rep. Tucker said.

Ms. Castillo is for a six-year limit. Coon is for eight years. Sen. McGovern is also in favor of limits, but was unsure what the number of years should be.

Taxes

Sen. McGovern said a graduated income tax is against the state constitution, but that she would support an amendment to change the constitution.

"Have in the past, will again in the future," Sen. McGovern said.

The senator also defended her support of broadening the sales tax.

Rep. Tucker agreed with the senator that broadening the sales tax is not aimed at small business, but at the rich.

"That's who I want to tax. Not the working people but the wealthy," Rep. Tucker said.

Ms. Castillo disagreed, stating that in the end, the rich pass on the costs to the lower and middle classes.

"Don't let anybody fool you that only the rich are being taxed. That's outrageous," Ms. Castillo said.

Mr. Coon is against broadening the sales tax because he said it is bad for business.

Strengthening the economy

Ms. Castillo said she would "audit every single department on the state level," to cut spending as her answer to stimulating the economy.

She named Massport, the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority and welfare as three programs she would focus on first.

Sen. McGovern said those audits are already being done.

CLT

Rep. Tucker reiterated her stand against the CLT tax roll back petition.

"It's like an air pillow, folks," Rep. Tucker said of the tax cutting proposal. "It feels good, but there's nothing in it."

Mr. Coon is for the tax roll back.

"Maybe Susan Tucker and Michael Dukakis don't believe we can cut $2 billion out of the state budget, but Bill Weld does; John Silber does," Mr. Coon said.

Ms. Castillo asked Sen. McGovern how she would work with the new governor when both candidates have vowed to repeal the recently approved tax package she helped write.

Sen. McGovern said she didn't believe either candidate would actually roll the taxes back once elected.

The candidates were asked where specifically they would make cuts if the CLT ballot initiative were passed.

"That's not the issue. The issue is whether or not we're going to have responsible legislators," Ms. Castillo said.

"I don't believe my opponent answered the question and I think that's because the question is very hard to answer," Sen. McGovern said.

The senator added that the state's bond rating would drop to junk bond status if the CLT Question 3 passes, which she said would be both embarrassing and costly to the state.

Budget Busters

Sen. McGovern took credit for helping identify the state's five "budget busters" — the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, Medicaid, state pensions, debt service and employees' health insurance — and said growth in those areas must be dealt with.

Ms. Castillo said it is fine to identify them and pay lip service to them, but that she would do something about reducing them.

Assault rifles

Mr. Coon didn't say whether he was for or against a ban on assault weapons, but that he believes in the right to bear arms. He said there is no clear definition of assault weapon.

Whose turn? Sen. Patricia McGovern, D-Lawrence, left, and Republican challenger Alba Castillo were both trying to be heard during last week's candidate debate at the Memorial Hall Library. Sen. McGovern said the debate, organized by the Andover League of Women Voters, was one of the best she'd ever been involved in.

"We have to find a clear definition of that," Mr. Coon said.

Ms. Castillo agreed with Mr. Coon on both the right and the lack of a definition.

But Rep. Tucker said she supports a ban on assault weapons and that no definitions are needed.

"I know several dead children that could tell you very clearly what an assault weapon is were they here to tell it," Rep. Tucker said.

"Very simple for me," Sen. McGovern said. "I live in south Lawrence. I oppose assault rifles."

Universal health care

Sen. McGovern supports universal health care and said it provides benefits to those who are not covered by a plan at work.

Ms. Castillo said it will discourage businesses from hiring and it will discourage welfare recipients from looking for work.

Rep. Tucker said it is not only a state issue, but a national issue.

"There's no free lunch in health care, the taxpayers pay for it," Rep. Tucker said.

Mr. Coon said he would vote to repeal the high cost employers would be required to pay into the health care program for each employee in their company.

Closing arguments

In her closing remarks, Sen. McGovern said she would continue to work on restructuring the MBTA and consolidating the police departments, including abolishing the Metropolitan District Commission. She said the changes Massachusetts is facing can be good for the state.

Riordan Family Florist

Riordan Family Florist is a family endeavor. Owners Katherine and Robert (who is also a bartender at Justin's.) opened the florist shop in North Reading last June. Katherine has thirteen year's experience in the field working for McLays in North Andover and Flowers by Steve in Bradford, in addition to other florists. They are Andover residents.

Riordan Family Florist is a full service florist that will accommodate all the customers' floral needs. They are available for consultation and advice for weddings, funerals, functions, holiday centerpieces, hostess gifts and all other occasions where flowers are appropriate.

Katherine's love of flowers is demonstrated by the care, individuality and imagination she puts into her arrangements. Riordan's carries a variety of different flowers in addition to the standard. All arrangements demonstrate her personal touch. Flowers are especially appropriate to express such emotions at love, sadness, caring, thanks, congratulations and being sorry.

There is no delivery charge for Andover and North Reading. They deliver seven days a week. Flowers may be sent throughout the United States by wire service.

Riordan Family Florist is located at 320 Main St. (Route 28, diagonally across from Pinewood Garden) in North Reading. Hours are Monday through Saturday 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Sunday 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Telephone: 664-1980.

Personal jabs highlight debate

"Change can be exciting. Change can be positive," she said.

Ms. Castillo said the greatest controversies in the state government were created by Sen. McGovern. She referred to the recent tax hike as the "McGovern tax package."

Ms. Castillo vowed to cut the new state sales taxes, work on welfare reform and workfare, and to downsize state government.

"All I ask is that you give me a chance to show what I can do," Ms. Castillo said.

Mr. Coon called for an end to wasteful spending, citing a $35 million art museum to be built in the Berkshires and pushing for the privatization and sale of the Hynes Auditorium. He asked for voters to seize the opportunity for change.

"We can't accept business as usual. Together we can bring about that change," Mr. Coon said.

"Change would put us significantly into the negative column," Rep. Tucker said to wind up the debate.

Howard Berg to offer speed reading course at West Elementary School

We're fighting a war, according to author Howard Berg.

Students, businesspeople, those at home, almost everyone must daily confront an information glut. A glut that engulfs our time and stifles productivity. Mr. Berg can help you win this battle with the information offered in two workshops offered through the Department of Community Services.

Keys to Ancient Mysteries will be held Friday, Nov. 2, at West Elementary School from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Registration fee is $24 for residents. Mr. Berg has read thousands of books.

Many media sources consider Mr. Berg the fastest reader in the world, according to DCS personnel. Using techniques he has developed, it is possible for him to read more than 25,000 words per minutes with excellent comprehension. "By combining the latest breakthroughs in psychology with ancient tools for mental like meditation, I've learned to tap the hidden potentials for the mind to accomplish what once was considered impossible," Mr. Berg says.

A Super Reading seminar will be held Saturday, Nov. 3, at the West Elementary auditorium from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Registration fee is $49 for residents. Mr. Berg will share his breakthroughs and enable you to read more in less time with greater comprehension. More than simply a speed reading course, Super Reading reveals how to read non-fiction and fiction quickly, master and retain difficult information, study more effectively in less time, focus and concentrate your mind and use new reading skills to succeed in business.

"I Believe that my job as a speaker goes beyond simply providing information. Adult audiences want workshops that are also fun and entertaining. I sprinkle liberal amounts of humor and audience participation in my presentations," Mr. Berg said.

Registrations are being accepted at the Andover Department of Community Services, Town Office, Bartlett Street, Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Why Victor?

GINA RIDDIFORD, GRI

...many buyers are coming homes seems so easy - even in this marketplace!

Gina is very likable and always makes you feel at ease. She has an ability to quickly understand the needs of the buyer and to select the perfect homes for them to choose from. All her sellers love her too, and they always feel they are in good and competent hands!

She has an extra quotient of both judgment and creativity, a good work ethic, and 15 years real estate experience.

Gina Riddiford - another very good reason why Victor "sold signs" are everywhere!

Police still working without a contract

By Don Staruk

The police patrolmen are 16 months into a three-year contract that has yet to be signed and neither side sees a settlement coming soon.

"There has been no progress since our last bargaining meeting, which was in January," said Officer Tom Slopes, president of the police patrolmen's union.

"Everything is at a turtle's pace."

The points of dispute involve personnel issues and changes required by the department's recently acquired accreditation.

Some of the changes agreed to by the department were not negotiated with the union first, according to Officer Slopes.

Neither side would go into any detail on the points at issue.

"There are issues and I don't really want to get into them," said Buzz Stapczynski, town manager.

The state's Joint Labor Management Committee is mediating negotiations, but Mr. Stapczynski agreed with Officer Slopes that no settlement is imminent.

"Not at this moment," he said.

Mr. Slopes said more progress might be made if union representatives could sit down face to face with Mr. Stapczynski, who has not met with them in his nearly five months in office.

"We're hoping to sit down with the town manager in the near future," Officer Slopes said.

"We haven't had what he's called a face-to-face," said Mr. Stapczynski. "I'm sure that will happen eventually."

But the town manager said the negotiations are in the hands of the JLMC, and him sitting down with the union may not be part of the process.

"Basically, it's in their hands," he said. "The process itself is designed to bring this to a conclusion. And it can happen rather soon."

Mark McQuillan named as new school superintendent

"We heard from staff who said they'd follow him anywhere," said Mrs. Poore.

"Andover couldn't have made a better choice," said Jean Perron, Dr. McQuillan's boss for the past five years in Beverly.

"He's a top-notch administrator. He's not scared to roll up his sleeves and go to work."

The two finalists not chosen by the committee were Eileen Gress, superintendent of Westboro schools, and Richard Sagar, former superintendent of Cazenovia, N.Y., schools.

Jennifer Hickman teaches that physics can actually be fun

By Lisa A. Boudreau

Teacher Jennifer Hickman's goal is to make physics fun for her students at Phillips Academy. On the first day of classes she sports a baseball cap with the words "physics coach" printed on it.

"That's how I want the students to think of me. I want them to know that physics isn't impossible and that I'll be here to help get them through the tough parts," she said.

Ms. Hickman's winning attitude isn't just winning over her students and the faculty at PA, but it's also reaping recognition and education awards for her nationwide.

She was recently the recipient of the Presidential Award for Excellence in science and mathematics teaching.

Ms. Hickman was one of four secondary teachers in the state chosen by the National Science Foundation.

She was nominated by her fellow members of the American Association of Physics Teachers, where she is chairman of the national organization's astronomy committee.

Ms. Hickman, 30, has been teaching physics and astronomy at PA for the past six years. Before that she taught the same subjects for three years at the Pomfret School in Pomfret, Conn.

She was recently the recipient of the Presidential Award for Excellence in science and mathematics.

"I've wanted to teach ever since I was little," she said.

After Ms. Hickman graduated from Georgetown High School she received her undergraduate bachelor of science degree from Wellesley College and went on to earn a masters of natural science from Worcester Polytechnic Institute.

Ms. Hickman said her style of teaching is aimed at making students feel more comfortable with science.

"My classes include as many hands-on activities as possible. I try to do as few 45 minute lectures as possible. I'd get bored if I had to listen to myself for that long."

By completing experiments with common items, she said she hopes her students will realize that physics isn't something that just happens in the classroom and in textbooks, but everywhere around them.

One experiment measured air resistance by dropping coffee filters, another estimated car speeds on Route 28 with stop watches at different intervals and one of the class' favorites measured the height of the school's bell tower by dropping objects of a known weight off the tower and timing its fall to the ground.

To get students interested and comfortable with science she believes parents should start learning with and teaching their children at a very early age.

She and her husband Paul, a physics teacher at Belmont High School, have put together workshops for parents to "help them get excited and comfortable with science so they can bring home the information to their kids and get them excited about learning," she said.

The workshops will begin in Belmont, but she hopes to organize future ones in the Andover area soon.

Another recent accomplishment was the publishing of the workbook she designed to accompany the text her students use in class. The workbook uses "fun" examples to work out physics problems, she said.

"One problem in the book uses the example of a polar bear sliding down a ramp at Sea World, rather than the bland boring examples of a spear rolling down an incline that some books use," she said.

"It's fun and entertaining and it's still learning. I think that's why the students do so well."

"The other afternoon a student came in and called me coach and asked for some help with a problem she was working on."
